HEAVY FROST FELT IN STATE, COLDERTONIGHT

Weather Bureau's Report Shows Killing Frosts Occurred in Western N. D.

HEAVY RAINS ALSO

Devils Lake Reports Precipitation of Over an Inch During the Day

Killing frosts occurred at points in western North Dakota last night, but Bismarck escaped serious frost damage although the temperature fell to 34 at the weather bureau station and probably below freezing in some of the low points.

There is prediction of generally fair weather tonight and Sunday, but with the prospect of killing frost tonight.

The lowest temperatures of the year were reported by the weather bureau. The mercury fell to 21 above at Minot, 25 at Dickinson, 26 at Williston, 34 at Bottineau, 35 at Napoleon, 36 at Minot, 30 at Jamestown, 39 at Fessenden, and other weather bureau stations in the state reported low temperatures of 40 or above during the night.

Heavy rains also occurred in North Dakota, with cloudy weather at most points. The precipitation reported to the weather bureau for the 24 hours ending at 7 a. m. today follows:

Amelia, .20; Bismarck, .55; Bottineau, .21; Devils Lake, 1.20; Dickinson, none; Dunn Center, none; Ellendale, .12; Fessenden, .91; Grand Forks, .53; Jamestown, 1.18; Lisbon, .16; Minot, .30; Napoleon, .42; Pembina, .01; Williston, .00; Moorhead, Minnesota, .12.

ESCAPE FROST HERE

Bismarck, without a killing frost here, is beyond the average date for a killing frost, this being given by the weather bureau as September 20. The average date of a killing frost for the entire state is about five days earlier, so that the first season is considerably late in arriving in North Dakota.

A large part of the corn in the state already is safe from frost. The "day of grace" given by the frost holding off was sufficient to put the corn crop over most places.

George F. Willis said today that the heavy frosts in the western part of the state would halt the corn growth, but repeated statements previously made state that fully 75 percent of the corn was out of the way of frost damage.

THRESHING DELAYED

A report to division offices of the Soo line here today said: Rain yesterday heavy, Moffit to Kulk; Bismarck to Drake, light; Max to Sannish, MerriCourt to Hankinson. Light rain last night Hankinson to MerriCourt. Threshing will be resumed Max to Sannish this afternoon some will start tomorrow between Bismarck and Drake with threshing well underway again Monday, while Bismarck east, including Pollock Line, will be middle of week before threshing will be started again with favorable weather.

HEAVY AT WILLISTON

Moorhead, Minn., Sept. 27.—A killing frost visited the vicinity of Williston, North Dakota, last night, according to reports received at the federal weather bureau here. The exact damage to growing crops was not mentioned.

TYPHUS TAKES HEAVY TOLL IN RUSSIAN CITY

Breaks Out Following Heavy Floods in Leninograd. Claiming Many People

MUCH HAVOC WROUGHT

Leninograd, Russia, Sept. 27.—Spotted typhus has again broken out in this storm-swept city, adding its horror to the flood. Over a hundred cases of the disease are being registered daily and doctors and nurses are overwhelmed in the work of caring for the patients.

One of the most gruesome aspects of the flood was the havoc wrought in the cemetery, where newly-made graves were washed out by the avalanche of water and bodies washed in the street. The dangers of pestilence are very great, and authorities are taking measures to check spread of the disease.

Although the population is still suffering grievously from the effects of last Tuesday's storm, the city is gradually returning to its normal calm.

Seventy-four out of 103 state factories have resumed operations and the government has appointed a special commission to appraise the losses caused by the flood and to determine the steps necessary for reconstruction and relief work.

SOUTHWEST N. D. PLANS ENTRIES IN CORN SHOW

Will Try to Prove That Section Is the Best Corn Section in North Dakota

Southwestern North Dakota will be at the second annual North Dakota State Corn Show in Bismarck, November 12, 13, 14 and 15, with bells on, according to A. F. Bradley, secretary, who returned last night from a trip in Missouri Slope counties in the interest of the corn show. Mr. Bradley reported wide-spread interest in the show, with county agents especially working hard to get fine exhibits from the counties. In the hope of winning the Hanna Sweepstakes Cup offered to the county scoring the most points. With many residents of southwestern North Dakota asserting it is the best corn section of North Dakota, every effort will be made to prove this through prizes won at the state show here.

Stolen Kiss Is Assault, Battery

Fargo, Sept. 27.—An infrequent, but, according to Judge J. K. Bingham, a universally accepted, interpretation of assault and battery was made in the justice court this morning when Edward Novy, 38, farmer near Chaffee, was held to district court on $100 bonds for stealing a kiss from Josephine Bulfinch, 59, widow, proprietor of a farm near that of Mr. Novy. The charge was assault and battery and the offended widow appeared in person to testify.

MORE THAN THOUSAND DOLLARS A MONTH FOR BISMARCK'S STREETS; HOW MONEY IS EXPENDED

Statement Shows High Cost To Taxpayers of the City of Bismarck

More than a thousand dollars a month is provided in the proposed city budget for streets. Park and roads during next fiscal year. In the new budget more than $18,000 is proposed for this department, quite a large sum for a city of 8,000. With a charge of some $700 and other items for city park care which improperly is assigned to this fund because Bismarck has no park board, the rest of the fund is practically all for care of streets. The $720 office expenses of T. R. Atkinson are charged against this fund also. In the statement given below the sum appears as $840 because $120 came over to this fund from a former year by reason of the fact that the city then was not on a cash basis.

If the proposed city budget is amended and a city engineer is hired to have supervision of the water works and the streets, an item of $2,120 could be eliminated. This represents salary and expense of the street commissioner.

For $8,000 a year, it is urged, a competent engineer can be had and is done in Minot to care for these departments. Such a combination would eliminate $2,120 for street commissioner, $720 office expense paid to city engineer, and some $2400 a year paid a superintendent of the water plant. Such a plan would save also the thousands paid annually for engineering expenses under the present five per cent commission arrangement. Not a city of any size in the state with the possible exception of Valley City has the five percent bonus plan which is regarded by experts in city affairs as poor public policy tending to increase public expenditures and promote public work in excess of the ability of tax payers to meet the assessments.

It would seem too in a city of Bismarck's size that more than $5,000 a year for street cleaning is large and that a saving could be effected there.

Disbursements under the street and road fund are shown herewith. In the next year's budget it is proposed to spend $18,400 for this purpose.

Street and Road Disbursements:
Street Commissioner Carl Bredy.	Salary	$1,800.00
Automobile		320.00
City Engineer:	T. R. Atkinson
Office exp. and salary		840.00
Workmen's Compensation Insurance		297.80
Interest on past due warrants		136.47

HOT WATER BURNS GIRL

Mandan, N. D., Sept. 27.—Leona Walker, 17, daughter of State Rep. and Mrs. R. H. Walker of Center, is in a hospital suffering from severe scalds on her hands and arms. She is making her home at the Geo. W. Goodale residence, 305 Fifth Ave. N. W., while attending the Mandan high school. When she built a fire in a hot water heater, the water tank became so hot that steam blew out the faucet to the bathtub as she turned it on preparatory to bathing. She quickly tried to stick the faucet back and scalded her hands so badly that the attending physician ordered her removed to a hospital for treatment.

DAWES IN CALL FOR VOTERS TO CAST BALLOTS

Vice-Presidential Candidate Declares People Will Rally To Real Issues

HE HITS POLITICIANS

Declares People Haven't Voted Because They Haven't Had Real Issue

Aboard Dawes Special, en route to Chicago, Winona, Minn., Sept. 27.—Charles G. Dawes, Republican candidate for vice-president, swinging down through Minnesota and Wisconsin today, declared Senator LaFollette, independent presidential nominee, by "attacking the Constitution" had made the present political campaign the most important since the Civil War.

"Senator LaFollette, by his attack on the Constitution, has raised a great issue, an issue born in the hearts and consciousness of the American people," he asserted. "I have been asked why I do not discuss other issues. When the Constitution of the United States is an issue I haven't any right to talk about anything else."

Mr. Dawes began his day's campaigning with a rear platform speech at Lake City, Minnesota. Where several hundred people had gathered despite a cold, driving rain and then stopped at Wabasha and Winona, before crossing the line into the home state of Senator LaFollette, to make eight speeches during the day in Madison, the home of the independent candidate for President.

The Republican nominee in all his speeches hammered at the LaFollette candidacy as he had done in his two days in Minnesota.

"We have got to get rid of these political peewees and blatherskites who are trying to make political instead of economic settlement of our troubles," he said at Wabasha. "They listened to the demagogues in Europe. They learned that common sense was the only remedy."

An appeal for a full vote at the November election, Dawes with his attack on the LaFollette movement.

"What brings people out to the polls?" he asked. "You have had these blatherskite politicians strutting every question and preaching nonsense and inconsistent clap-trap. What kind of an inducement is there with that kind of a running for office on either side? You haven't had an issue. You haven't had a fight. When you get a real fight, the American people come to the polls to vote right. We want our issues defined right in this country and I hope to do it. I would rather take a licking than lose my self-respect."

LOCAL A. OF C. BOOSTS STATE FOR HOSPITAL

Enters Claim of North Dakota and Bismarck for Institution

COMMITTEE IS NAMED

Will Visit Many Cities and Render Report on Location

A committee of disinterested citizens will be named soon to make recommendations regarding the location of a new hospital by the United States Veterans Bureau in the Tenth District, according to information received by the Association of Commerce from General Frank T. Hines, director of the Bureau.

Legionnaires of the Northwest have been fighting for a hospital in this district to take care of tubercular ex-service men. At present they are sent long distances from their homes, and investigations made by the Legion and the Veterans Bureau convinced many that it would be far better for the patients to have such a hospital located in the district.

Recently, at the American Legion convention in St. Paul, Commander Carlson and Adjutant Williams of the American Legion of North Dakota, made a plea for the location of this hospital in North Dakota. Minnesota is also after it.

The Association of Commerce, when General Hines was in Minneapolis, made representations to him backing up the plea of North Dakota for the hospital. In a telegram to Gen. Hines, the local Association said:

"We respectfully request your consideration of North Dakota's advantages as to climate and location for a government tuberculosis hospital. As you know there are no facilities within the State at present to care for the large number of tubercular ex-service men."

In addition to this, other representations have been made, first pointing out the advantages of North Dakota as a whole, and next, the peculiar advantages of locating such a hospital at Bismarck, the capital city.

William Stern of Fargo has been named as North Dakota representative on the committee to make a tour of proposed sites for the hospital, the appointment coming from Commander A. B. Carlson at Minot.

BIG ZEPPELIN SOON TO FLY ACROSS OCEAN

Will Start For United States on October 5 or 6, According to Plans

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Sept. 27.—(By the A. P.)—The Zik-3 will start on its trans-Atlantic trip to Lakehurst, N. J., on October 5 or 6, provided that the weather over the Atlantic ocean is favorable at that time. Dr. Hugo Eckener, director of the Zeppelin, announced today.

Lieut. Commander Garland Fulton, American naval officer, who has been observing the construction of the giant dirigible by the United States Navy, has advised Washington that the airplane will start for America within seven or eight days.

The American navy department, it is stated, is sending three vessels to take up stations at various points on the Atlantic to keep Dr. Eckener advised of weather conditions.

PROGRESS ON CONCRETE ROAD

Is About Half Finished West of River Bridge

Work of laying concrete on the road from the west end of the Missouri River Bridge to a point this side of the Northern Pacific underpass east of Mandan, is about half finished, according to W. G. Black, state engineer. The stretch of concrete to be laid is two and four-tenths miles long.

With good weather, the entire concrete work should be finished easily within two weeks, he said. It is possible that the road will be opened in sections, shortening each time the distance necessary to travel on the bad detour through the woods. The road being laid is 20 feet, two feet wider than the concrete road from Bismarck to the river bridge.

NO CLEMENCY

Louise Thomas, 19 and a negro, is to be electrocuted in Pennsylvania, October 20, regardless of the Leopold and Leach precedent in Chicago. She was convicted of the murder of a negro policeman, on February 8, Governor Pinchot has signed her death warrant.

N. D. COOLIDGE FORCES FAILED TO 'CROOK' BOB

Could Have Embarrassed LaFollette Forces by Filing of Extra Petitions

WERE FAIR, THEY SAY

Coolidge adherents in North Dakota, had they desired, could have done the candidacy of Robert M. LaFollette serious damage in North Dakota by taking advantage of the situation created by the election laws, many local Coolidge adherents declare, in criticizing the failure of LaFollette forces to remove electors from the Republican column where they may trade on the President's name.

It is pointed out that under the law electors could be placed in nomination by presenting petitions bearing 300 names to the Secretary of State. The Coolidge forces, it is claimed, could have placed a dozen candidates for presidential electors in the individual nominations column with designations which would have caused the voter to believe the electors were for LaFollette for President. As only five electors are to be elected, it would be possible by this trick, it is declared, to have caused a wide distribution of the vote of LaFollette adherents among many electors and perhaps by this trick alone defeated him in North Dakota.

As the situation resulted, at the time of the closing of the filing of petitions for presidential electors, no such trick was attempted by Coolidge forces, and but one set of five independent "LaFollette-Wheeler-Progressive" electors was filed. The Coolidge forces, his adherents here assert, acted fairly in the matter, and they assert the LaFollette forces did not do so in leaving LaFollette-inclined electors in the Coolidge column.

It is pointed out that under an opinion given by Attorney-General George Shafer to Frank Vogel, LaFollette campaign manager, on August 28, the LaFollette forces also demanded more than they were entitled to on the ballot.

The Attorney-General found that, under the law, LaFollette electors, or any other electors representing independent candidates, do not have the right to grouping in brackets in the individual nomination column.

The Attorney-General's opinion, given only to Mr. Vogel at the latter's request, was not made public, and Mr. Schafer indicated he would make no effort to start action on its basis in the event the electors were not made up as he believed should be.

DEFALCATION IS $2,500,000

Amount Taken by New Yorker Is Raised

New York, Sept. 27.—The defalcation of George R. Christian, misaging partner of the bankrupt brokerage firm of Day and Heaton amounted to $1,500,000 in cash and securities, Assistant District Attorney Richard H. Gibbs announced this afternoon.

Mr. Gibbs said Christian had taken this amount before disappearing but that the total loss to the firm including working capital, profits and customer's securities, could be estimated at $2,500,000. The loss previously had been placed at $700,000.

ELECTOR FIGHT GOES TO HIGH COURT MONDAY

Attorneys in Conference Here on Answer That Will Be Made in Court

WITHDRAWAL RUMORS

Rumored, But Not Substantiated, That the LaFollette Electors Will Quit

An answer will be filed in the supreme court Monday in behalf of four Republican electors whose ouster from the November 4 election ballot is sought on the ground that they are favorable to Robert M. LaFollette, maintaining their right to remain on the ballot, as the constitution now stands. It was announced at noon today by C. L. Crum of Bismarck and S. E. Ellsworth of Jamestown, retained as counsel in the case.

No papers will be filed by the attorneys, until they are required to appear in the supreme court at 2 p. m. Monday to show cause why the four electors should not be withdrawn. It was indicated by them.

"The best statement as to our position will be contained in the answer to be filed Monday," said James Ellsworth, adding that it would maintain the right of the electors to their places on the ballot.

The name of William Lemke as a candidate for Governor remained on file in the Secretary of State's office this afternoon, no word of his intention to withdraw from the race having been received officially.

Candidate Quits
L. H. Steen of Kulk, for whom a certificate of nomination was filed as a candidate for the House of Representatives in LaMoore county, asked his name be withdrawn from the ballot, in a letter to the Secretary of State. He said he had notified circulators of petitions that because of the death of his wife last year he must remain at home with his family. He is a Nonpartisan. One Nonpartisan and one Independent were nominated for the legislature in LaMoore county, according to information here. Steen's failure to enter the race probably assured the independence of one representative from LaMoore county.

Rumors that four Republican electors yet would withdraw and clear the Republican ballot for Coolidge men were not substantiated today.

DECLARE BANK BANDIT RING NOW BROKEN

Confessions Obtained Declared to Solve Most Robberies of Two States

Fargo, Sept. 27.—Ten alleged bank robbers believed to have committed most of the robberies in North and South Dakota for the last two years, have confessed as a result of a ring of burglars uncovered following the taking of William Berg, James Ryan, and Ben Mahowies at Selby, S. Dak., recently.

This is the gist of statements announced by W. S. Gordon, Burns detective, for both North and South Dakota Bankers associations and by W. C. MacFadden, Secretary of the North Dakota Bankers association.

The last of gangs which have leveled on sister states for two years are being rounded up and "inside stories" are coming out. MacFadden believes that the ring of bank yeggs have been all broken up, basing this belief on fact there have been no recent robberies at a season when they usually flourish.

Confessions covered are from Bruce Blaine, alias "Hissouri Bob", now serving time in the North Dakota penitentiary; William Berg of Minot, James Ryan, commonly known as "St. Louis Billy", and Ben Mahowies, alias Thomas Duane, who are all now in Sioux Falls, and Richard Ray, also in North Dakota penitentiary. ## HOT WATER BURNS GIRL

Mandan, N. D., Sept. 27.—Leora Walker, 17, daughter of State Rep. and Mrs. R. H. Walker of Center, is in a hospital suffering from severe scalds on her hands and arms.

She is making her home at the Geo. W. Goodale residence, 305 Fifth Ave. N. W., while attending the Mandan high school. When she built a fire in a hot water heater, the water tank became so hot that steam blew out the faucet to the bathtub as she turned it on preparatory to bathing one of the Goodale children. She pluckily tried to turn the faucet back and scalded her hands so badly that the attending physician ordered her removed to a hospital for treatment.

RED CROSS TO SEEK 2,000 IN THIS COUNTY

R. A. Tracy Takes Charge of The Annual Roll Call Drive For Bismarck

With the selection of R. A. Tracy as chairman of the Red Cross drive for Bismarck, plans are underway to secure 2,000 members in this county. Several workers have been selected to handle the towns and villages outside of Bismarck. School teachers have consented to aid in the drive and are being enlisted to get two members.

Boy Scouts will start out Monday with the Roll Call posters. Next Sunday Bismarck ministers will make reference to the Red Cross in their sermons and posters will be displayed in the churches. The following appeal has been sent to the club women of the state by Mrs. Lyman N. Cary of Mandan:

The Red Cross is asking again for our support and contributions in the Annual Roll Call. Again and again in flood and fire and earthquake has its efficiency and usefulness been demonstrated. It is not possible to wait until such catastrophes occur to ask for contributions; the supplies and food and money must be ready before the need arises. It is for this reason that the appeal is made annually, and we should all assist this wonderful organization to carry on its work. I want to urge every club woman in the state to help make the Roll Call this year the success that it should be.

FAMOUS HOTEL IS BURNED

Guests at Del Monte Forced To Flee in Scant Attire

Del Monte, Calif., Sept. 27.—The Hotel Del Monte, center of a playground known internationally to tourists and sportsmen for its beauty and golf links, was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin which started in a tower in front of the building early today.

The fire alarm sent 600 guests gathered at the hotel scurrying from the building in scant belongings to the main structure, valued at approximately $1,000,000. Art treasures valued at $74,000 were saved.

Tourists Take Goat With Them

Greeley, Colo.—Motor tourists no longer give up the comforts of their homes when they travel through the west.

One party of travelers from North Dakota which passed through Greeley recently, had a milch goat harnessed in what the animal seemed to regard as a comfortable position on the touring board of their car. Members of the party explained they were accustomed to goat's milk, and that they saw no reason for doing without it because they were traveling.

The goat was so tied to the car that it could eat leisurely even with the automobile in motion.

DAWES IN CALL FOR VOTERS TO CAST BALLOTS

Vice-Presidential Candidate Declares People Will Rally To Real Issues

HE HITS POLITICIANS

Declares People Haven't Voted Because They Haven't Had Real Issue

Aboard Dawes Special, en route to Chicago, Winona, Minn., Sept. 27.—Charles G. Dawes, Republican candidate for vice-president, swinging down through Minnesota and Wisconsin today, declared Senator LaFollette, independent presidential nominee, by "attacking the Constitution" had made the present political campaign the most important since the Civil War.

"Senator LaFollette, by his attack on the Constitution, has raised a great issue, an issue born in the hearts and consciousness of the American people," he asserted. "I have been asked why I do not discuss other issues. When the Constitution of the United States is an issue I haven't any right to talk about anything else."

Mr. Dawes began his day's campaigning with a rear platform speech at Lake City, Minnesota, where several hundred people had gathered despite a cold, driving rain and then stopped at Wabasha and Winona, before crossing the line into the home state of Senator LaFollette, to make eight speeches during the day in Madison, the home of the independent candidate for President.

The Republican nominee in all his speeches hammered at the LaFollette candidacy as he had done in his two days in Minnesota.

"We have got to get rid of these political pee-wits and blatherers who are trying to make political instead of economic settlement of our troubles," he said at Wabasha. "They listened to the demagogues in Europe. They learned that common sense was the only remedy."

Asks Full Vote
An appeal for a full vote at the November election oftentimes was combined by Mr. Dawes with his attack on the LaFollette movement.

"What brings people out to the polls?" he asked. "You have had these blatherers politicians striding every question and preaching nonsense and inconsistent clap-trap. What kind of an inducement is there with that kind of cusses running for office on either side? You haven't had an issue. You haven't had a fight. When you get a real fight, the American people come to the polls to vote right. We want our issues defined right in this country and I hope to do it. I would rather take a licking than lose my self-respect."

WOMAN GOES TO HUNT LIONS

Mrs. E. L. King Leaves For Africa on University Expedition

New York, Sept. 27.—(By the A. P.)—Mrs. E. L. King, champion crack shot of the American Northwest, accompanied by her husband and their 10-year-old son Ernest, will sail today aboard the liner Majestic for a big hunting expedition in British East Africa.

The Kings, who live in Winona, Minn., intend to shoot lions, elephants, buffaloes and other jungle beasts. These will be given to the University of Minnesota and the American Museum of Natural History. Already a safari composed of 100 black porters, each of whom will carry 60 pounds of luggage on their long trek into the wilderness, is being organized for them in Nairobi, capital of British East Africa. The hunt will take place west of the capital.

For the shooting of elephants and lions, Mrs. King will use a 4.65 caliber double-barrel rifle, which resembles a portable cannon, the cartridges being about four inches long. Her husband will use a still larger gun, one of 5.77 calibre.

LOCAL A. OF C. BOOSTS STATE FOR HOSPITAL

Enters Claim of North Dakota and Bismarck for Institution

COMMITTEE IS NAMED

Will Visit Many Cities and Render Report on Location

A committee of disinterested citizens will be named soon to make recommendations regarding the location of a new hospital by the United States Veterans Bureau in the Tenth District, according to information received by the Association of Commerce from General Frank T. Hines, director of the Bureau.

Legionnaires of the Northwest have been fighting for a hospital in this district to take care of tubercular ex-service men. At present they are sent long distances from their homes, and investigations made by the Legion and the Veterans Bureau convinced many that it would be far better for the patients to have such a hospital located in the district.

Recently, at the American Legion convention in St. Paul, Commander Carlson and Adjutant Williams of the American Legion of North Dakota, made a plea for the location of this hospital in North Dakota. Minnesota is also after it.

The Association of Commerce, when General Hines was in Minneapolis, made representations to him backing up the plea of North Dakota for the hospital. In a telegram to Gen. Hines, the local Association

"We respectfully request your consideration of North Dakota's advantages as to climate and location for a government tuberculosis hospital. As you know there are no facilities within the State at present to care for the large number of tubercular ex-service men."

In addition to this, other representations have been made, first pointing out the advantages of North Dakota as a whole, and next, the peculiar advantages of locating such a hospital at Bismarck, the capital city.

William Stern of Fargo has been named as North Dakota representative on the committee to make a tour of proposed sites for the hospital, the appointment coming from Commander A. B. Carlson at Minot.

BIG ZEPPELIN SOON TO FLY ACROSS OCEAN

Will Start For United States on October 5 or 6, According to Plans

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Sept. 27.—(By the A. P.)—The ZR-3 will start on its trans-Atlantic trip to Lakehurst, N. J., on October 5 or 6, provided that the weather over the Atlantic ocean is favorable at that time. Dr. Hugo Eckener, director of the Zeppelin, announced today.

Lieut. Commander Garland Fulton, American naval officer, who has been observing the construction of the giant dirigible by the Zeppelin company for the United States Navy, has advised Washington that the airplane will start for America within seven or eight days.

The American navy department, it is stated, is sending three vessels to take up stations at different points on the Atlantic to keep Dr. Eckener advised of weather conditions.

PROGRESS ON CONCRETE ROAD IS ABOUT HALF FINISHED WEST OF RIVER BRIDGE

Work of laying concrete on the road from the west end of the Missouri River Bridge to a point this side of the Northern Pacific underpass east of Mandan, is about half finished, according to W. G. Black, state engineer. The stretch of concrete to be laid is two and four-tenths miles long.

With good weather, the entire concrete work should be finished easily within two weeks, he said. It is possible that the road will be opened in sections, shortening each time the distance necessary to travel on the bad detour through the woods. The road being laid is 20 feet, two feet wider than the concrete road from Bismarck to the river bridge.

N. D. COOLIDGE FORCES FAILED TO 'CROOK' BOB

WERE FAIR, THEY SAY

Coolidge adherents in North Dakota, had they desired, could have done the candidacy of Robert M. LaFollette serious damage in North Dakota by taking advantage of the situation created by the election laws, many local Coolidge adherents declare, in criticizing the failure of LaFollette forces to remove electors from the Republican column where they may trade on the President's name.

It is pointed out that under the law electors could be placed in nomination by presenting petitions bearing 300 names to the Secretary of State. The Coolidge forces, it is declared, could have placed a dozen candidates for presidential elector in the individual nominations column with designations which would have caused the voter to believe the electors were for LaFollette for President. As only five electors are to be elected, it would be possible by this trick, it is declared, to have caused a wide distribution of the vote of LaFollette adherents among many electors and perhaps by this trick alone defeated him in North Dakota.

As the situation resulted, at the time of the closing of the filing of petitions for presidential electors, no such trick was attempted by Coolidge forces, and but one set of five independent "LaFollette-Wheelwright-Progressive" electors was filed. The Coolidge forces, his adherents here assert, acted fairly in this matter, and they assert the LaFollette forces did not do so in leaving LaFollette-inclined electors in the Coolidge column.

It is pointed out that under an opinion given by Attorney-General George Shafer to Frank Vogel, LaFollette campaign manager, on August 20, the LaFollette forces alone demanded more than they were entitled to on the ballot.

The Attorney-General found that, under the law, LaFollette electors, or any other electors representing independent candidates, do not have the right to grouping in brackets in the individual nominations column.

The Attorney-General's opinion, given only to Mr. Vogel at the latter's request, was not made public, and Mr. Shafer indicated he would make no effort to start action on its basis in the event the ballots were not made up as he believes it should be.

DEFALCATION IS $2,500,000

Amount Taken by New Yorker Is Raised

New York, Sept. 27.—The defalcation of George R. Christian, missing partner of the bankrupt brokerage firm of Day and Heaton amounted to $1,500,000 in cash and securities, Assistant District Attorney Richard H. Gibbs announced this afternoon.

Mr. Gibbs said Christian had taken this amount before disappearing but that the total loss to the firm including working capital, profits and customer's securities, could be estimated at $2,500,000. The loss previously had been placed at $700,000.

ELECTOR FIGHT GOES TO HIGH COURT MONDAY

Attorneys in Conference Here on Answer That Will Be Made in Court

WITHDRAWAL RUMORS

Rumored, But Not Substantiated, That the LaFollette Electors Will Quit

An answer will be filed in the supreme court Monday in behalf of four Republican electors whose ouster from the November 4 election ballot is sought on the ground that they are favorable to Robert M. LaFollette, maintaining their right to remain on the ballot, as the situation now stands, it was announced at noon today by C. L. Crum of Bismarck and S. E. Ellsworth of Jamestown, retained as counsel in the case.

No papers will be filed by the attorneys, until they are required to appear in the supreme court at 2 p. m. Monday to show cause why the four electors should not be withdrawn, it was indicated by them.

"The best statement as to our position will be contained in the answer to be filed Monday," said Judge Ellsworth, adding that it would maintain the right of the electors to their places on the ballot.

The name of William Lemke as a candidate for Governor remained on file in the Secretary of State's office this afternoon, no word of his intention to withdraw from the race having been received officially.

Candidate Quits

L. H. Steen of Kulm, for whom a certificate of nomination was filed as a candidate for the House of Representatives in LaMoure county, asked his name be withdrawn from the ballot, in a letter to the Secretary of State. He said he had notified circulators of petitions that because of the death of his wife last year he must remain at home with his family. He is a Nonpartisan. One Nonpartisan and one Independent were nominated for the legislature by LaMoure county, according to information here. Steen's failure to enter the race probably assures the Independents of one representative from LaMoure county.

Rumors that the four Republican electors yet would withdraw and clear the Republican ballot for Coolidge men were not substantiated today.

DECLARE BANK BANDIT RING NOW BROKEN

Confessions Obtained Declared to Solve Most Robberies of Two States

Fargo, Sept. 27.—Ten alleged bank robbers believed to have committed most of the robberies in North and South Dakota for the last two years, have confessed as a result of a ring of burglars uncovered following the taking of William Berg, James Ryan, and Ben Mahlewiz at Selby, S. Dak., recently.

This is the gist of statements announced by W. S. Gordon, Burns detective, for both North and South Dakota Bankers' associations and by W. C. MacFadden, Secretary of the North Dakota Bankers' association.

The last of gangs which have leveled on sister states for two years, being rounded up and "inside stories" are coming out. MacFadden believes that the ring of bank yeggs have been all broken up, basing this belief on fact there have been no recent robberies at a season when these usually flourish.

Confessions covered are from Bruce Blaine, alias "Missouri Bob", now serving time in the North Dakota penitentiary; William Berg of Minot, James Ryan, commonly known as "St. Louis Billy" and Ben Mahlewiz, alias Thomas Duane, who are all now in Sioux Falls, and Richard Hays, also in North Dakota penitentiary. Involved in confessions are the "Big Five," "Whitely" Cline, George Arnold, alias Sharkey, Herman Richman, Dan Morris and John Linden, alias "Devils Lake Red." Cline, Arnold and Richman are in the state prison at Bismarck. Devils Lake Red is serving time at Stanton, in the Mercer county jail.

Statement Issued After
State Bank Call

The Bank of North Dakota, in a statement issued of the condition of the bank as of September 17, pursuant to the call of the state examiner, lists profits of the institution as $2,207.44. Among the resources of the bank, however, are carried deposits to closed banks, loans to closed banks and receiver's certificates, great of claim, totalling $2,547,641.16. This amount has increased slightly since the statement of March 14, 1924, when it was $2,498,522. Additional closings of banks offsetting liquidation of some assets. The bank has loans to state in districts, including $492,026.05 to the Home Builders Association and $416,766.52 to the Mill and Elevator Association.

Deposits of the bank have decreased since the statement of March 15, due to the long period for withdrawal by public treasurers after the spring taxpaying. Deposits of public treasurers are shown to be $4,278,639.56 as compared to $9,065,021.47 on last March 15.

Independents Will Meet S. D. Gasoline Price

Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 26.—Local independent oil dealers today met to discuss the state's new gasoline price. The state would begin retail sale of gasoline here tomorrow at 15 cents a gallon with the announcement that they would install pumping stations separate from their established filling stations and sell gasoline at 15 cents "without service."

Maintaining the present 18-cent of gasoline is justified by the cost of free service given motorists, dealers said that the state price can be met by elimination of this service.

St. Cloud, Minn., Sept. 26.—The issue presented by the LaFollette and Coolidge candidates was declared to be "a call to the colors" by Charles F. Dawes, in a speech at Anoka, Minn., today here for another night address.

Mr. Dawes reiterated that Senator LaFollette has raised the issue of preservation of the federal constitution and declared the voters of the country thereby had been given the choice of placing themselves on the side of the constitution under the American flag and under a man like President Coolidge who has got the guts to stand by it or going on to the sinking stand of socialism with the red flag.

Whaleback Believed Found-

Cleveland, O., Sept. 26.—A hydro-plane, tugs and beach patrols were today added to the agencies being employed to find some trace of the whaleback freighter Clifton, now definitely believed to have foundered with the crew of 28 officers and men in the gale which swept Lake Huron Sunday night.

"We have abandoned virtually all hope for the safety of the Clifton and her crew," A. G. R. Schneider, general manager of the Progress Steamship Company, Cleveland owner, said.

Schneider added, however, that officials of his company, as well as marine men, were unable to understand why if the Clifton did founder, wreckage or other evidences of the tragedy had not been tossed upon the shores or had not floated to the surface of the lake.

ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF N. D. PARK ARE MANY

A. H. Yoder, Vice President of State Association, Points Out Way

LOOKING TO FUTURE

Declares That Eventually Every State Will Have Attractive National Park

There are many arguments in favor of the establishment of a Roosevelt Memorial National Park in the Badlands of North Dakota, according to A. H. Yoder of Grand Forks, vice-president of the state association. In a letter to county committeemen, he says in part:

"Every state will eventually have an attractive national park. Fourteen states and two territories are now provided with federal park facilities. These are: Maine, the only one in the eastern portion of the country; Arkansas which has the oldest national park, Arizona, Alaska, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

In 1904, North Dakota was given Sully Hill National Park, containing 780 acres, which the Director of National Park Service of Washington, D. C. now recommends be changed to a game preserve under the control of the biological survey, department of agriculture. This plan gives us our chance to ask for a real National Park commensurate with the size and importance of the state.

"Up to this time, national parks have been located in the western states chiefly because of the free land available. Our state still has about a hundred thousand acres of government land in the Bad Land region and a considerable acreage of land which has been filed on but not proved up. The latter is subject to cancellation and when reclaimed will double the amount available for park purposes. Some land will need to be acquired by purchase. Data is now being compiled by the Commission to show the ownership of all land in the proposed park area.

In Scenic Regions
"National parks are located in scenic regions, Yosemite, Yellowstone, Glacier, Sequoia. North Dakota possesses one unique physical feature—the Bad Lands of the Little Missouri—the like of which does not exist elsewhere in the United States. It is attractive enough to command the approval of the national park authorities and satisfy tourists.

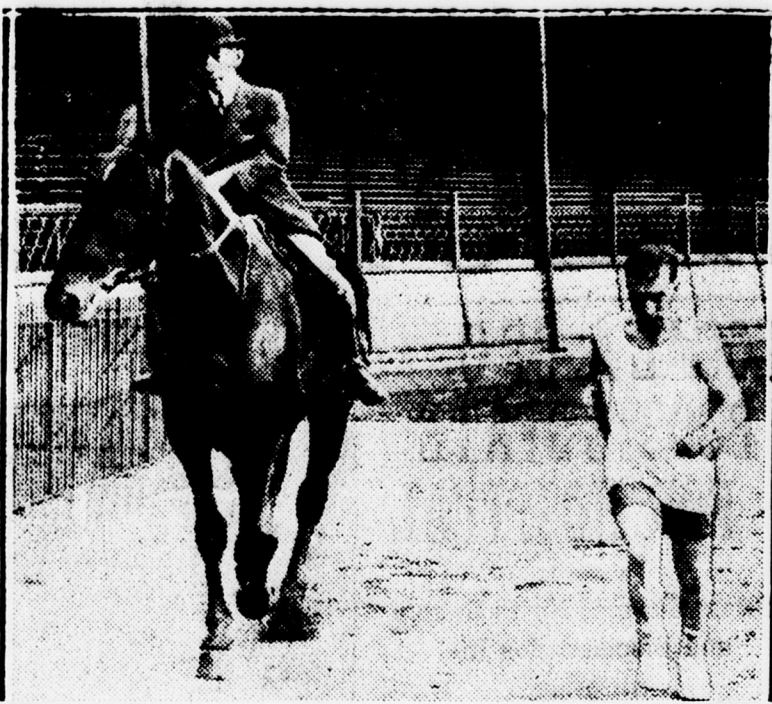

"The location of the proposed park is midway between the lake region of Minnesota, already famous and visited every year by thousands of tourists, and Yellowstone, Glacier, and other western national parks. The region is crossed by the N. P. railway and is touched on the east by the Soo road, on the north by the Great Northern, and on the south by the Milwaukee. All of these roads have given hearty endorsement of our plan. The park region is also in the direct line of the three national trunk highways—Yellowstone, Parks Highway, and the Roosevelt Trail. In fact, no park has been created or proposed with such fine travel accommodations."

Reasons For Shortage Existing in Some Places Told By Kitchen

WORSE IN FUTURE?

A rush of harvest hands to North Dakota before they were needed, the resultant failure to get employment from farmers to hold them until the crops were ready for harvest, and the effort of various forces to balance the situation so as to keep a fair wage level, are among the causes for the labor shortage which has, and does now, exist in some places in the state, according to Joseph A. Kitchen, Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, in charge of the state free employment service. Mr. Kitchen's diagnosis of the situation expressed in a letter to Clyde L. Nelson, special labor agent, Minot.

"We have carefully read your letter of the 22nd regarding labor shortage in your vicinity," said Mr. Kitchen, on September 24. "We sent out a letter sometime ago stating the condition was partly caused by the premature $5.00 railroad rate. This brought thousands of men to North Dakota when there was no work and we advised farmers it would be better to employ men if possible and hold them until needed as we felt there would be a scarcity of laborers at threshing time."

Mr. Milroy phoned me the 18th that your territory was short 500 men. We were short through the state, so I phoned the free employment office at Minneapolis and they advised me they would do everything possible to help us out but that they had calls for all the men they could send out at $6.00 per day, transportation paid. Extensive publicity of a large shortage of threshing help, especially at such a time as this when Minneapolis can send men out at such high wages, would cause those already employed to think how needful their services are and would lead them to aim for higher wages. We want the laboring man to get all the justice he deserves, but we do not feel our people can pay much over $5.00 per day.

Klansmen and Italians Ready To Do Battle

Steuenville, O., Sept. 27.—With disorders between Klansmen and Sons of Italy threatened at Follansbee, West Virginia, across the Ohio River from this city, 40 special police sworn early today by Mayor A. L. Dillar and 20 deputy sheriffs, headed by Sheriff J. W. Stephens of Brook county, West Virginia, are patrolling the streets of the mill town.

New Trouble In Mesopotamia

London, Sept. 27.—There has been a renewal of the trouble along the frontier of Iraq, Mesopotamia, within the past three days, according to an unofficial report printed by the Morning Post, the Turks having crossed the boundary and again been repulsed by British airmen. The situation is stated from the same source to be tenser than the British government was led to believe, but direct news is lacking.

MAKE YOUR OLD CAR LOOK BETTER THAN NEW.

DUCO

Successfully Withstands These Daring Tests.

- 1. Mud:
A DUCO finished car can be coated with mud, allowed to dry, wiped clean with a dry cloth and show nothing but a better polish as a result.
- 2. Ammonia:
This chemical would quickly bleach and ruin the average finish. It cannot harm DUCO. Cars stored in barns are not affected in the least.
- 3. Fire Extinguisher:
The chemicals used in fire extinguishers would prove fatal to any car finish but DUCO.
- 4. Sun Rays:
The actinic action of sun rays which draw out the color of the average finish find themselves baffled by DUCO.
- 5. Dust:
Minute dust particles which scratch and mar the ordinary finish serve merely as a polishing agent for DUCO.
- 6. Alkali Dust:
No ordinary finish can withstand the destructive action of alkali dust. DUCO thrives on it.
- 7. Battery Acid:
Even this corrosive acid, which eats the heart out of zinc terminals and ruins ordinary finish, cannot harm DUCO.
- 8. Boiling Water:
Ordinary finishes turn white or gray when splashed with boiling water. Not so DUCO. Boiling, spouting radiators hold no terror for this superior finish.
- 9. Road Oil:
This sticky, messy, finish ruining substance can be quickly removed from DUCO finish without leaving the slightest stain.
- 10. Lime Cement:
You may never intend to stucco a car, but its a comforting thought to know that lime and cement can be scraped off of a DUCO finish and leave no trace of its presence.
- 11. Tree Sap:
Ever have your car under a tree in the spring only to find its finish spotted and marred by dropping sap? DUCO will come through unharmed.
- 12. Muriatic Acid:
Few car owners would have occasion to pour this deadly acid on their car. But its pretty convincing evidence that since DUCO will stand this, it must be good.
- 13. Sulphuric Acid:
One of the most corrosive acids known. It has no effect whatever on DUCO'S perfect finish.
- 14. Salt Air:
Motorists living near the ocean despair of keeping a glossy finish on their car, due to the deteriorating effect of salt air. DUCO is totally unaffected.
- 15. Durability:
Cars finished with DUCO at the end of three years show no sign of wear, in fact have more lustre than when originally finished.

We have exercised every precaution to keep harvest-threshing wages from being abnormally high and at the same time have tried to induce whatever labor was free and available to head towards Minot and other points in the northern part of the state.

"It is very evident the farmers of North Dakota must balance their farming operations, for with such restrictions on immigration as we now have, harvest-threshing labor conditions will be worse from year to year and the farmers will have to run the risk if they expect to put in large fields of wheat and employ laborers three or four weeks in the fall to take care of them. They will have to diversify their farming operations so as to employ more laborers continuously throughout the year."

AT THE MOVIES

CAPITOL
What is said to be the most original plot ever employed in a comedy is woven into Douglas MacLean's "Never Say Die" which comes to the Capitol theatre Monday.

The picture is a screen version of Willie Collier's great Broadway success which kept New York laughing for a year and has been in every principal city four seasons with Nat Goodwin, as the star.

The story is a delicious tale all about a young man of vast wealth with an erroneous idea he has not long to live. To prevent his fortune going to charity, he is induced by a young artist friend to marry a beautiful girl, so that she may inherit his wealth.

The girl has already engaged herself to the artist who is counting on sharing his friend's wealth when the proper time comes. As was to be expected, the bride never becomes a widow and the romance develops into an exciting conflict between love and duty.

A laughable satire on the divorce business figures in the plot with more hilarious situations when the unhappy married hero and his pretty victim try to conceal the fact that they are nearly crazy about each other.

In his endeavor to join the girl on a steamer about to sail, hero has the wildest and most exciting chase through Central Park ever recorded on the screen. The finish is said to provide the largest and heartiest laugh ever found in a comedy either on the stage or screen. It would spoil the fun to tell it.

THE ELTINGE

Appearing in a story which gives full play to her remarkable personality, Betty Compson will be seen at her best in "The Enemy Sex" at the Eltinge Theatre Monday and Tuesday. At the same time, Miss Compson scores a great personal triumph. In the strong, convincing cast are Percy Marshall, Gustav Gordon, Kathryn Bell, Sheldon Lewis and DeWitt Jennings, enough talent for a dozen pictures.

The story, an adaptation from Owen Johnson's powerful novel, "The Salamander" deals with the personal efforts of Dodo Baxter, a chorus girl, to outwit five rich men who are smitten with her charms. Packed with thrills and pepped with the brand of humor for which James Cruze is famous, the plot marches on without a hitch to the final smashing climax.

CAR THIEVES SENTENCED

Judge Cole Gives Two Five Years Each

Fargo, Sept. 27.—Car thieves Jared Kaily in Cass county court when Judge A. T. Cole gave Ralph Webster of Argusville, and Claude Manley of Los Angeles, Calif., five years each in the state penitentiary, yesterday afternoon.

Increase in the hold-ups with which cars are being stolen in this vicinity this year is given as one reason for the firm stand the court is taking in an effort to put fear into the hearts of auto thieves. The pair were caught with a wrong license on a car which it was found was stolen in Fargo.

TWO ROBBERS SENT TO PEN

Get Four Years Each; Face Other Charges Later

Fargo, Sept. 27. Thomas Cox of Colorado and Richard Brooks of Detroit, Michigan, arrested Sept. 15 in Fargo for alleged robbery of the Farmer Mercantile Company of Christine of more than $700 in merchandise will be placed in the state penitentiary following a sentence of four years given them in Richland county this week.

The men were caught by members of the Cass county sheriff's department in an automobile loaded with stolen goods. Investigation showed the pair were part of a gang wanted in Kansas for attempted murder, jail delivery and auto theft. The car which they drove and which bore a Nebraska license was found to have been stolen in Kansas. Richland county officials decided to send the men to the penitentiary at Bismarck instead of returning them to Atchison, Kansas, where they are wanted. Following the completion of their sentence at Bismarck they will still face charges for other alleged crimes.

EARTH SHOCK SCARES MINERS

Swansea, Wales, Sept. 27.—An earthquake shock was felt in the Rhymney Valley early today. It was felt pronouncedly in some of the coal mines, where ominous rumblings followed by loud reports and falling roofs spread alarm among the miners who thought an explosion had occurred.

AT THE MOVIES

CAPITOL
What is said to be the most original plot ever employed in a comedy is woven into Douglas MacLean's "Never Say Die" which comes to the Capitol theatre Monday.
The picture is a screen version of Willie Collier's great Broadway success which kept New York laughing for a year and then played in every principal city four seasons with Nat Goodwin, as the star.

The story is a delicious tale all about a young man of vast wealth with an erroneous idea he has not long to live. To prevent his fortune going to charity, he is induced by a young artist friend to marry a beautiful girl, so that she may inherit his wealth.
The girl has already engaged herself to the artist who is counting on sharing his friend's wealth when the proper time comes. As was to be expected, the bride never becomes a widow and the romance develops into an exciting conflict between love and duty.
A laughable satire on the divorce business figures in the plot with more hilarious situations when the unhappy married hero and his pretty victim try to conceal the fact that they are nearly crazy about each other.

In his endeavor to join the girl on a steamer about to sail, the hero has the wildest and most exciting chase through Central Park ever recorded on the screen. The finish is said to provide the largest and heartiest laugh ever found in a comedy either on the stage or screen. It would spoil the fun to tell it.

THE ETLINGE

Appearing in a story which gives full play to her remarkable personality, Betty Compson will be seen at her best in "The Enemy Sex" at the Eltinge Theatre Monday and Tuesday. At the same time, Miss Compson scores a great personal triumph. In the strong supporting cast are Percy Marmon, Huntly Gordon, Kathryn Williams, Sheldon Lewis and DeWitt Jennings, enough talent for half a dozen pictures.

The story, an adaptation from Owen Johnson's powerful novel, "The Salamander" deals with the successful efforts of Dodo Baxter, a chorus girl, to outwit five rich men who are smitten with her charms. Packed with thrills and pepped with the brand of humor for which James Cruze is famous, the plot marches on without a hitch to the final smashing climax.

CAR THIEVES SENTENCED

Judge Cole Gives Two Five Years Each

Fargo, Sept. 27.—Car thieves fared badly in Cass county court when Judge A. T. Cole gave Ralph Webster of Argusville, and Claude Manies of Los Angeles, Calif., five years each in the state penitentiary, yesterday afternoon.

Increase in the boltless with which cars are being stolen in this vicinity this year is given as one reason for the firm stand the court is taking in an effort to put fear into the hearts of auto thieves. The pair were caught with a wrong license on a car which it was found was stolen in Fargo.

TWO ROBBERS SENT TO PEN

Get Four Years Each; Face Other Charges Later

Fargo, Sept. 27.—Thomas Cox of Colorado and Richard Brooks of Detroit, Michigan, arrested Sept. 15 in Fargo for alleged robbery of the Farmer Mercantile Company of Christine of more than $700 in merchandise will be placed in the state penitentiary following a sentence of four years given them in Richland county this week.

The men were caught by members of the Cass county sheriff's department in an automobile loaded with stolen goods. Investigation showed the pair were part of a gang wanted in Kansas for attempted murder, jail delivery and auto theft. The car which they drove and which bore a Nebraska license was found to have been stolen in Kansas. Richland county officials decided to send the men to the penitentiary at Bismarck instead of returning them to Atchison, Kansas, where they are wanted. Following the completion of their sentence at Bismarck they will still face charges for other alleged crimes.

ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF N. D. PARK ARE MANY

A. H. Yoder, Vice President of State Association, Points Out Way

LOOKING TO FUTURE

Declares That Eventually Every State Will Have Attractive National Park

There are many arguments in favor of the establishment of a Roosevelt Memorial National Park in the badland of North Dakota, according to A. H. Yoder of Grand Forks, vice-president of the state association. In a letter to county commissioners, he says in part:

"Every state will eventually have an attractive national park. Fourteen states and two territories are now provided with federal park facilities. These are: Maine, the only one in the eastern portion of the continent; Arizona, Alaska, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

Sully Hill Park

In 1904, North Dakota was given Sully Hill National Park, containing 780 acres, which the Director of National Park Service of Washington, D. C. now recommends be changed to a large preserve under the control of the biological survey department of agriculture. This plan gives us out money to ask for a real National Park commensurate with the size and importance of the state.

"Up to this time, national parks have been located in the western states chiefly because of the free land available. Our state still has about a hundred thousand acres of government land in the Bad Land region and a considerable acreage of land which has been filed on but not moved up. The latter is subject to cancellation and when reclaimed will double the amount available for park purposes. Some land will need to be acquired by purchase. Data is now being compiled by the Commission to show the ownership of all land in the proposed park area.

In Scenic Regions

"National parks are located in scenic regions, Yosemite, Yellowstone, Glacier, Sequoia. North Dakota possesses one unique physical feature—the Bad Lands of the Little Missouri—the like of which does not exist elsewhere in the United States. It is attractive enough to command the approval of the national park authorities and satisfy tourists.

"The location of the proposed park is midway between the lake region of Minnesota, already famous and visited every year by thousands of tourists, and Yellowstone, Glacier, and other western national parks. The region is crossed by the N. P. railway and is touched on the east by the Soo road, on the north by the Great Northern, and on the south by the Milwaukee. All of these roads have given hearty endorsement of our plan. The park region is also in the direct line of the three national trunk highways—Yellowstone, Park Highway, and the Roosevelt Trail. In fact, no park has been created or proposed with such fine travel accommodations."

LIFE IS FULL IN PINGREE

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 27.—The town of Pingree in this county has had a number of exciting events the past few days, starting with a narrow escape from fire of the business section when a small oil stove in the cream station at the Shaw general store exploded.

The second fire alarm of the week came when the blacksmith shop caught fire from a gas engine exhaust pipe. It was quickly under control with no damage.

Arl McKenzie has gone home to Pangree from the hospital at Jamestown where he was obliged to come for treatment following the run of his team with a plow. He received a bad cut on the upper jaw and had several teeth knocked out in stopping the team.

Professor Hansen of the village school left his car sitting along side his house, just beneath his bedroom window for safety. Tuesday night and in the morning found that sick thieves had stripped it of a wheel, a tire and a bearing.

HARVESTHANDS CAME HERE FOR WORK TOO SOON

Reasons for Shortage Existing in Some Places Told By Kitchen

WORSE IN FUTURE?

A rush of harvest hands to North Dakota before they were needed, the resultant failure to get employment from farmers to hold them until the crops were ready for harvest, and the effort of various forces to balance the situation so as to keep a fair wage level, are among the causes for the labor shortage which has, and does now, exist at some places in the state, according to Joseph A. Kitchen, Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, in charge of the state free employment service. Mr. Kitchen's diagnosis of the situation expressed in a letter to Clyde L. Nelson, special labor agent, Minn.

"We have carefully read your letter of the 22nd regarding labor shortage in your vicinity," said Mr. Kitchen, on September 24. "We sent out a letter sometime ago stating the condition was partly caused by the premature $5.00 railroad rate. This brought thousands of men to North Dakota when there was no work and we advised farmers it would be better to employ men if possible and hold them until needed as we felt there would be a scarcity of laborers at threshing time."

Mr. Millroy phoned me the 18th that your territory was short 500 men. We were short through the state, so I phoned the free employment office at Minneapolis and they advised me they would do everything possible to help us out but that they had calls for all the men they could send out at $5.00 per day and transportation paid. Extensive publicity of a large shortage of threshing help, especially at such a time as this when Minneapolis can send men out at such high wages, would cause those already employed to think how needful their services are and would lead them to aim for higher wages. We want the laboring man to get all the justice he deserves, but we do not feel our people can pay much over $5.00 per day.

Klansmen and Italians Ready To Do Battle

Steubenville, O., Sept. 27.—With disorders between Klansmen and Sons of Italy threatened at Follansbee, West Virginia, across the Ohio River from this city, 40 special police sworn early today by Mayor A. L. Dillar and 20 deputy sheriffs, headed by Sheriff J. W. Stephens of Brook county, West Virginia, are patrolling the streets of the mill town.

New Trouble In Mesopotamia

London, Sept. 27.—There has been a renewal of the trouble along the frontier of Iraq, Mesopotamia, within the past three days, according to an unofficial report printed by the Morning Post, the Turks having crossed the boundary and again been repulsed by British airmen.

The situation is stated from the same source to be tenser than the British government was led to believe, but direct news is lacking.

We have exercised every precaution to keep harvest-threshing wages from being abnormally high and at the same time have tried to induce whatever labor was free and available to head towards Minot and other points in the northern part of the state.

"It is very evident the farmers of North Dakota must balance their farming operations, for with such restrictions on immigration as we now have, harvest-threshing labor conditions will be worse from year to year and the farmers will have to run the risk if they expect to put in large fields of wheat and employ laborers three or four weeks in the fall to take care of them. They will have to diversify their farming operations so as to employ more laborers continuously throughout the year."

- 1. Mud: A DUCO finished car can be coated with mud, allowed to dry, wiped clean with a dry cloth and show nothing but a better polish as a result.

- 3. Fire Extinguisher: The chemicals used in fire extinguishers would prove fatal to any car finish but DUCO.
- 4. Sun Rays: The actinic action of sun rays which draw out the color of the average finish find themselves baffled by DUCO.
- 5. Dust: Minute dust particles which scratch and mar the ordinary finish serve merely as a polishing agent for DUCO.
- 6. Alkali Dust: No ordinary finish can withstand the destructive action of alkali dust. DUCO thrives on it.
- 7. Battery Acid: Even this corrosive acid, which eats the heart out of zinc terminals and ruins ordinary finish, cannot harm DUCO.
- 8. Boiling Water: Ordinary finishes turn white or gray when splashed with boiling water. Not so DUCO. Boiling, spouting radiators hold no terror for this superior finish.
- 9. Road Oil: This sticky, messy, finish ruining substance can be quickly removed from DUCO finish without leaving the slightest stain.
- 10. Lime Cement: You may never intend to stucco a car, but it's a comforting thought to know that lime and cement can be scraped off of a DUCO finish and leave no trace of its presence.
- 11. Tree Sap: Ever have your car under a tree in the spring only to find its finish spotted and marred by dropping sap? DUCO will come through unharmed.
- 12. Muriatic Acid: Few car owners would have occasion to pour this deadly acid on their car. But its pretty convincing evidence that since DUCO will stand this, it must be good.
- 13. Sulphuric Acid: One of the most corrosive acids known. It has no effect whatever on DUCO'S perfect finish.
- 14. Salt Air: Motorists living near the ocean despair of keeping a glossy finish on their car, due to the deteriorating effect of salt air. DUCO is totally unaffected.
- 15. Durability: Cars finished with DUCO at the end of three years show no sign of wear, in fact have more lustre than when originally finished.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Clamor for a change in the manner of selecting the President of the United States naturally increases when situations arise as acute as those in North Dakota and California. Progress toward such an end must be made slowly and only after careful study. The inadequacies of the present system are apparent, it is true, but could not new complications arise under the direct primary system, as embarrassing and as paradoxical?

The Primary System obtaining in some states is solely to blame for complications over presidential electors. Under party conventions and fixed party responsibility a situation such as has happened in North Dakota could hardly happen. The primary system has let down the bars. Socialists, Ultra-Radicals of all types have been able to invade both the republican and democratic parties and use them regardless of the principles or candidates such parties are in duty bound to espouse.

Manipulation of the primary system has been so easy that thoughtful persons wonder whether the nomination and election of a president by direct vote would prevent some of the complications which threaten to disfranchise a large body of voters in this and other states.

Common honesty and political decency should clear the atmosphere in this state.

A return to conventions and party responsibility probably would cure the present ills more effectively than an extension of the direct primary which has not resulted in electing better men to public office than were attracted to the public service under the old and now almost discarded system.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Burleigh county has set 2,000 members as its goal in the Red Cross drive which starts October 5. "Join Now, The American Red Cross Serves Humanity," is the slogan.

The Burleigh county chapter administers to the needs of this section in a very vital way. Offices are maintained in the City National Bank building with Miss Mary Cashe in charge. Affairs of the society are directed by a board representative of the community. While a portion of the chapter's work is financed by the city and county, a portion of revenue must be derived from memberships.

What does the Red Cross do for Burleigh county? It directs a social service bureau which acts as a clearing house for charitable work, thus avoiding costly duplication in time, money and effort.

Its social worker Miss Cashe, investigates mother pension applications. Her efforts alone in weeding out petitions for relief that had no merit have saved the tax-payers thousands annually.

This trained worker under Red Cross auspices gives aid to the worthy poor, finds places for unemployed and constantly is bringing hope and cheer into places where misfortune has come.

As juvenile officer working under the direction of the district judge, she becomes the adviser of wayward girls. Much constructive work has been done along this line.

Not a small part of the work is the aid extended to ex-servicemen. They are assisted at Red Cross headquarters in filing claims. Aid is given their families as necessity dictates. The Red Cross feels keenly its duty toward ex-servicemen and Burleigh county's record of efficiency in this line has brought praise from national officers.

What drive could be more worthy? Where can money be better spent in promoting community welfare?

R. A. Tracy has consented to act as chairman for this year's drive. He is entitled to the best kind of cooperation and support.

The Red Cross is a most effective agent for good in time of peace as well as in times of war.

Get behind it. Join when asked.

SKYWARD

Skyscrapers 750 feet high are coming in great numbers, it's predicted at a meeting of National Association of Building Owners and Managers. This is made possible by recent improvements in express elevator service, operators handling the cars by push buttons. Stops will be made every tenth floor. There'll be local elevators for each deck of 10 floors.

High land values are compelling man to resort to inventive ingenuity that is magical. The high building and the elevator are simply attempts to escape from land rentals.

AVERAGE FINES

Violators of the prohibition act, convicted in federal courts, pay an average fine of $170 apiece. This is disclosed by the government report, covering four years.

Uncle Sam's net still has many holes through which whales can swim freely. But the net is working about twice as efficiently as two years ago. Federal convictions in 1922 totaled over 34,000, compared with a trifle over 18,000 in 1921.

The trouble with the net is that it catches too many sardines.

OLD-TIMES

Old documents, come to light in New Hampshire, show that Judge Jonathan Lawrence 72 years ago paid these prices when he traded at the "general store":

Butter, 20 cents a pound; eggs, 12 cents a dozen; apples, 19 cents a peck; flour, $5.25 a barrel; gloves, 28 cents a pair; flannel, 30 cents a yard; sheeting, 12 cents a yard.

Some of these prices are not as low as you'd expect. Prices reach about the same high peaks every 50 years. Wheat sold for $3.50 a bushel at times after the Napoleonic and American Civil wars.

What is worse than your wife cooking the same thing for dinner you had down town for lunch?

VOTERS WANT FAIR PLAY

(Jamestown Alert)

The refusal of the LaFollette managers of North Dakota to remove the four electors, who have announced they will vote for LaFollette and Wheeler, if elected, from the Republican column, looks like a cheap attempt to disfranchise the republican voters of this state. This obdurate purpose on the part of the LaFollette management, to keep the four LaFollette electors in the Republican column, in order to prevent republican voters from casting their vote, as republicans, for Coolidge and Dawes, will surely react against LaFollette in North Dakota.

No matter to what political party the voter belongs, and regardless of his personal choice of candidates for the presidency, he believes in fair play. It is positive that a majority of the LaFollette voters in North Dakota want the names of LaFollette and Wheeler electors removed from masquerading as republicans in a republican column on the ballot.

Senator LaFollette has strength enough in North Dakota to go it alone, before the voters of North Dakota. He does not need to steal by a trick, or misleading device, votes intended for Coolidge and Dawes. What the real motives of the LaFollette managers are in fighting the state wide demand to remove the LaFollette electors from the republican column, is not yet revealed. But it is easy to surmise. The Nonpartisan League and the LaFollette support will lose prestige by the LaFollette manager policy of LaFollette managers, in preventing, if such proves to be the case, republican voters from expressing their free choice for Coolidge and Dawes in their own party column.

This stubborn position of LaFollette managers may so far react as to create a rift in the LaFollette-Wheeler ranks and it would not be surprising or unreasonable, if the protest was strong enough to bring this about, with the disastrous results to LaFollette himself. The people of North Dakota, regardless of party, want every qualified voter to have a square deal, in expressing his choice for president and vice president.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Back came Nancy and Nick to the Sour Old Woman's house under the water-fall.

They had the sleepy sand with them and they had to do was to get the Sand Man out of the Sour Old Woman's cellar and start him off to his home in Shut-Eye Town.

Nancy peeped in through the Sour Old Woman's cellar window and there lay the Sand Man still fast asleep.

"Sh!" called Nick softly. "But it didn't do a bit of good for the poor fellow was tired out."

So Nick took some little pebbles and threw them and at that the Sand Man sat up and stretched and yawned and said sleepily, "Ho, hum! Where am I?"

"Hush!" whispered Nancy. "You're in the cellar of the Sour Old Woman's house. See if you can get up the stairs and slip out."

So the Sand Man peeped up through the hole in the floor, and seeing no one, slipped up the cellar steps and was tip-toeing out through the kitchen when the Sour Old Woman popped out from behind the stove and Eena Meena the Magician stepped out of the cupboard.

"I see we have company," said the Sour Old Woman as pleasantly as she could.

"Why, didn't you remember?" said the Sand Man in surprise. "You told me to go to the cellar and then you forgot and shut us in."

"Why so I did!" said the Sour Old Woman. "My memory is so short I can't count up to a dozen any more. And your friends—where are they?"

The poor Sand Man didn't know what to say. He didn't want to say that the Twins had escaped, for then the Sour Old Woman and her friend, the Magician, would start to hunt and they would be sure to discover the Twins outside.

But Nancy and Nick had heard every word and they knew there was going to be some trouble.

"Quick, Nick," said Nancy. "Dump all the magic sand out of the sack into that hollow stump, and fill the bag up with common sand."

So Nick dumped all of the Sand Man's magic sleepy sand out of the sack and filled it up with common sand that lay near the water-fall.

Then they went to the Sour Old Woman's front door and knocked.

And just in time. Because the Sand Man didn't know what to say when the Sour Old Woman asked him for the third time where the Twins were.

"We had an errand to do so we left," said Nancy. "You see it was time for all the babies to have their naps and someone just had to take the sleepy sand around. The poor Sand Man was all worn out with his hay fever."

The Sour Old Woman made a wry face. "Happy sand, indeed!" said she. "We'll soon fix that. Eena Meena, say your charm."

So Eena Meena said: "Slumber now you cannot make, Instead you'll keep folks wide-awake."

And he waved his right hand over the bag of sleepy sand.

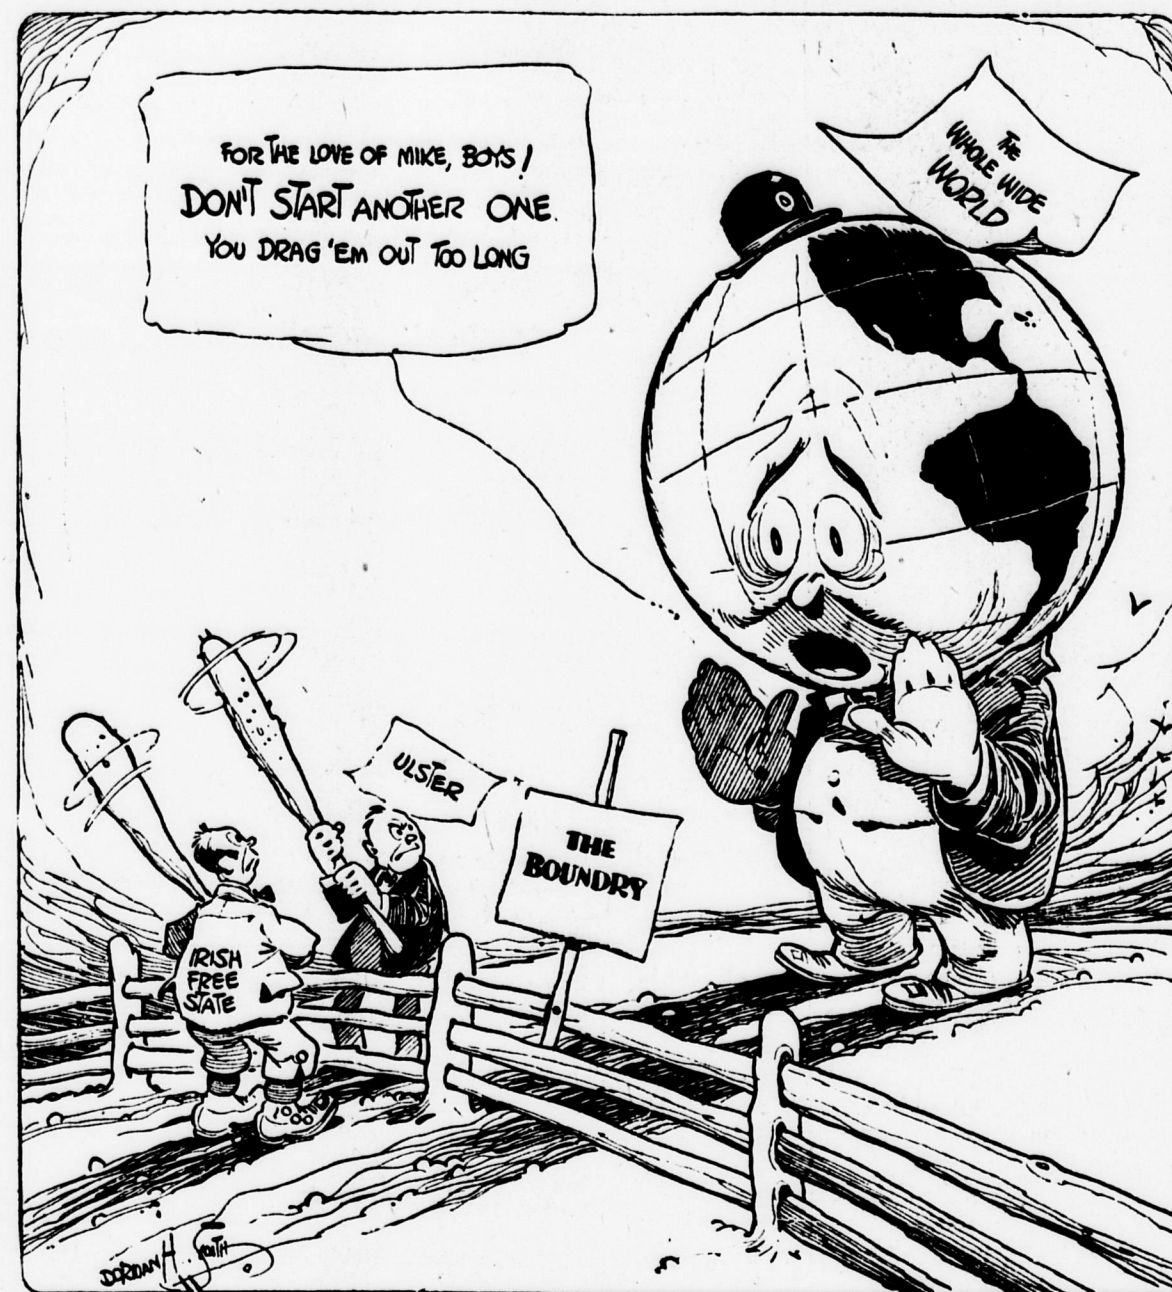

"My goodness! You can't do that," gasped the poor Sand Man. "What will the babies do?"

"They will have to do without," said Eena Meena. "All three of you may go now."

From the Bottom of Our Hearts

Ma Jorkins and Her Radio

By AUSTIN FLEET

In one of Larry's worst periods, when he was disgusted with living in daily fear of the law, he persuaded his friend Skinner to come on the tramp with him. That was how the pair found themselves, foot-sore and hungry, and longing desperately for the white lights, in a scattered farming community.

Skinner waited until Larry went forward to reconnoiter a lonely farmhouse. Larry returned jubilant.

"Skinner," he cried, "there's only an old dame living there alone. I started to make her see if she didn't hand out all she's got stuffed in her stocking there'd be murder done, and—she's adopted me."

"What?" yelled Skinner. "It's true, she's dippy. Think seven years, and I'm to live with her and get her money when she dies. I told her I'd bring a friend, so maybe there'll be a hand-out for you, but me—I know when I'm well off. I stay."

Cursing at Larry's luck, Skinner accompanied him to the farmhouse. The little old woman was waiting for them at the door, all smiles.

"Jack!" she cried, throwing her arms round Skinner's neck. "You've come back too. Ned and his twin! I old eyes are gladdened by the sight of you. You are Jack, aren't you?" she continued wistfully.

"Sure, ma," answered Skinner, with a significant glance at his friend.

"Such a meal had not been within the friends' experience for what seemed an eternity. They ate till they were stuffed."

"Excuse me, children; I've got to hang up your photographs again," said the old woman in the middle of the meal. "Ever since you've been gone they've hung in my bedroom where I could see them first thing after waking, but now back they go in the kitchen where I can see them when I'm cooking for you."

"Sure, ma," said Larry. "Say, Larry, I don't like this," whispered Skinner. "How do you know she won't cut our throats while we're asleep?"

"Aw, she's harmless," said Larry. "The fat of the land for us, Skinner, and if she don't croak soon and leave us the farm maybe we'll hurry her up. The country life for mine. Say, that hammering sounds more like a telegraph instrument than a hammer to me!"

"Aw, ferget it," answered his friend. "Didn't see no telegraph wires along this road, did you?"

The little old woman came back, still beaming. "Now, boys, I've hung your photos so nice in the kitchen," she said. "And I guess you're tired, poor boys, and would like to go to bed. Come upstairs. I've always kept your beds ready in case you was to come home."

Upstairs was a large, inviting feather bed. The two, after kissing their "mother," deposited themselves luxuriously upon it, only taking off their coats and boots. "Better'n the barns," grunted Larry sleepily.

"They started up, still half asleep, as a light flashed in their eyes. Before them stood a stalwart official wearing a tin star, and covering them with an antiquated but very serviceable revolver. With him was a deputy. Behind them stood the old woman."

"What's this, ma?" whimpered Larry. "Mother!" begged Skinner pleadingly.

"I'll take good care of these birds at the jail, Ma Jorkins," said the sheriff, as he gathered in the victims. "You shore was right, ma, when you said that wuzn't no need to feel alarmed livin' on this lonely farm with that radio outfit you bought last spring."

The Tangle

"All right, I'll send him a bill if you're sure it's a cheese," said the accountant to the old storekeeper.

The accountant sent the man a bill for the cheese. The supposed debtor wrote back very indignantly saying he was a hardware dealer, and never bought a cheese in his life. The old man scratched his head. He seemed to be all at sea; then his eyes brightened. He drew the paper toward him and put a little inside the big O. Handing it back to the accountant he said, as though everything was now explained:

"There it is. I forgot to put the hole in the cheese. It's a grindstone he owes me for."

Ruth, I hope I'm not trying to make Jack pay me for a cheese when it is a grindstone for which he is in my debt. I am insisting that he apologize for what he said to me about Karl's telephone, because I think he is jealous of Karl and thinks me disloyal. Perhaps he is neither jealous of Karl nor doubtful of me, but knowing it would be impossible for him to give me such a wonderful present, he is hurt that I have accepted them from another man.

Now here, Ruth, is my worst trouble. I don't think dad is getting along as fast as we could wish. In fact, mother takes the most pessimistic view of his condition. True, dad himself is very optimistic, and keeps talking about when he will get up again, but I don't like his wanting to leave home here and take his place. That isn't like dad, but if he thought he would ever get back into harness—

Poor, poor mother! She is one of those women who is more of a wife than a mother. Although she loves us devotedly I do not think there was ever a time in her life she would not have sacrificed both Alice and me for dad any day.

They've been particularly a happy couple. Sometimes, though, I think I will ask mother if when they were first married it did not take them a little while to adjust themselves. I remember her saying one time that people either grow together or grow apart. They have grown together, and now, if anything happens to her whole life will be wrecked and broken. I dare not think what will become of her.

Well, Ruth dear, this is a terrible letter to write to any one, let alone a dearest friend. I hope you got out all right with my mother-in-law. It just seems to me as though John and I were having enough misunderstandings and troubles without her making it worse all the time. And as for that old maid, I thought I had got rid of her, and now here she bobs up again. I'll just have to settle with her in the near future once for all. She almost makes me feel a Borgia when I think of her.

As soon as you get everything settled at the apartment, you would better send me a long night letter collect, for I am very anxious to know exactly what has happened. If she has found the secret drawer in my desk, I will never forgive her. There, I've told it to you, Ruth. There is a secret drawer, and I have found it.

Lovingly, LESLIE.

A Thought

Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another.—Acts 1:26.

Man, man is thy brother, and thy father is God.—Lamartine.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

HE'S A HUMAN BEING, TOO

By Albert Apple

One generation of people has about the same problems as another. As a sample: The high cost of living is an eternal problem. They had it thousands of years ago, just as much as we have it now. And they tried about the same remedies — such as laws against profiteering, fair price lists, etc.

The reason our economic problems remain unsolved, century after century, is because they are considered as cold-blooded scientific problems instead of human problems.

The trouble begins in our schools. We teach the rising generations all the truths, sophistries and bunk propaganda of economics. But we give them very little training in human decency—kindness, fair play, the Golden Rule.

Quite naturally, men who have not been trained in Christian principles do not practice these principles when they get power over the necessities of life.

Take the problem of the farmer, who has been getting less than his share of prosperity. This problem has for the most part been considered as cold-bloodedly as if it were a surgical operation.

Politicians and economists and writers have come forth with numerous solutions, based on statistics. Their arguments usually wind up with the plea that, if the farmer's buying power isn't restored to him, he cannot buy city-made goods.

That's true. But there's more to it than the selfish or material side. It's more than an economic problem. It's a human problem. The farmer is a human being. He has a right to a fair share of general prosperity. If he doesn't get it, he suffers—so do his wife and children. His children, in particular, suffer by not getting an even chance in education and inheritance. But most of this is ignored. The talk runs to law of supply and demand, cycles, price balances, etc.

Some day this is going to be a mighty fine world to live in—but not until people realize that the only solution for most material problems is spiritual—Golden Rule, decency, tolerance, Christianity.

Material suffering is the result of violating spiritual laws.

New York, Sept. 27.—The Cheese Club meets every day but not a bite of mouse trap bait is eaten by its members.

They live for laughs. No movement or enterprise is too ridiculous for them to offer a supporting hand. It was the Cheese Club that organized the famous overall parade, the Fifth Avenue march of 40 workers that attracted 2,000,000 spectators.

Last spring the club produced a show seriously billed as "The world's worst show"—and it was. It lasted one night.

This winter "The world's best show" will be produced for a night. Practically every star on Broadway will appear.

The club composed of authors, cartoonists and press agents with some connection with the theatre, has headquarters in The Tavern. Guests are invited every day except Monday, when the club reserves the right to a closed session to laugh at the guests of the week previous.

Benny Leonard, the pugilist, actor and author, was the fun maker yesterday. Among Benny's strongest fortes, however, is his business ability. He is one of the shrewdest men in the ring, on a typewriter or behind the footlights.

The Cheese Club has a membership of only 100 with a waiting list that includes, officials say, Eddie Cantor, Will Rogers and others.

Harry Hirschfeld, the cartoonist, who was born in Iowa, is the club president and chief fun maker. Bernard Sobel, former Purdue University professor and now a Broadway press representative is the English referee.

Sixty-five dollars an hour or $500 a day is not considered excessive attorney's fees according to bar-risters pleading for their funds in a case here—a case in which the organization which hired them, objected to the compensation. Counsel fees were $750,000.

Broadway may soon be cluttered with buses. The plan is seriously suggested to do away with street car lines on the famous street. In rush hours, Fifth Avenue, looks like the avenue of buses. But they make better time in the congested area than electric cars.

FABLES ON HEALTH FOR DISINFECTANTS

The need for disinfectants or fumigations was sounded in one of the notices brought home from the hygiene class by little Mollie Jones. The list was compiled something like this:

1—Standard solutions of washing, cleaning and disinfecting closets, cuspidors, washbowls, etc., are—boiling water, soap and water, soda and water, lime, carbolic acid, cleanlinol, sol and tricresol.

2—Standard killers of disease germs are—alcohol, iodine, carbolic acid, lysol, formalin and bichloride of mercury.

3—Standard fumigants are—sulphur, hydrocyanic acid gas and formaldehyde gas.

*Most every home finds need at one time or another for fumigants, either after illness or due to the intrusion of some sort of vermin. Sulphur is good for pests and formaldehyde for disinfectant.

MANDAN NEWS

There will be a meeting of all those interested in the Mandan symphony orchestra on Tuesday evening Sept. 30 at 7:30 at the Commercial club and a good attendance is urged. The effort made last spring toward the organization of the orchestra was very satisfactory but due to the lateness of the season it was planned to start anew this fall. There were close to thirty registered at the spring meeting and several musicians have moved to Mandan to make their homes since and it is expected that the orchestra will meet with success right from the start.

Due to a wet field and more threatening weather predicted the football game scheduled by Mandan high school with the Linton high school for this afternoon has been postponed to some day early next week.

"Harris Hustlers" Entertain Teachers

The "Harris Hustlers", a Sunday school class of young women at the Methodist church, entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. Harvey Harris, in honor of the new women teachers in the Bismarck schools, and those who have been here before, and who attend the Methodist church.

The program committee, headed by Miss Dora Wallen, assisted by Miss Ruth Rowley and Mrs. Wesley Sherwin, had arranged a very clever group of stunts for the evening. The "novel handshake" was used to introduce the company; those shaking the hands of five mysterious people received gifts, won by Misses Esther Winter, Florence Jones, Eva Haberman, Grace Hand, and Beatrice Register.

Each guest was then given a card with the name of another guest whom she was to talk to, and then write a poem about, or make a prediction concerning her future. The group was divided into two sides, Miss Jeanette Myhre and Miss Lucille Allen being captains. Five races were participated in, a foot, necktie, slang, newspaper, and apple relay race, of which the odds, captained by Miss Myhre, won three. She was presented with rosebuds.

Miss Mabel Nathan received the prize for naming all the exhibits in the side show, although a number of guests were successful in correctly guessing all the entries in the livestock exhibit.

Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

"Harris Hustlers" Entertain Teachers

The "Harris Hustlers", a Sunday school class of young women at the Methodist church, entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. Harvey Harris, in honor of the new women teachers in the Bismarck schools, and those who have been here before, and who attend the Methodist church.

The program committee, headed by Miss Dora Wallen, assisted by Miss Ruth Rowley and Mrs. Wesley Sherwin, had arranged a very clever group of stunts for the evening. The "novel handshake" was used to introduce the company; those shaking the hands of five mysterious people received gifts, won by Misses Esther Winter, Florence Jones, Eva Haberman, Grace Hand, and Beatrice Register.

Each guest was then given a card with the name of another guest whom she was to talk to, and then write a poem about, or make a prediction concerning her future. The group was divided into two sides, Miss Jeannette Myhre and Miss Lucille Allen being captains. Five races were participated in, a foot, necktie, slang, newspaper, and apple relay race, of which the odds, captained by Miss Myhre, won three. She was presented with rosebuds.

Miss Mabel Nathan received the prize for naming all the exhibits in the side show, although a number of guests were successful in correctly guessing all the entries in the livestock exhibit.

Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

FOOD FOR THOUGHT
Clamor for a change in the manner of selecting the President of the United States naturally increases when situations arise as acute as those in North Dakota and California. Progress toward such an end must be made slowly and only after careful study. The inadequacies of the present system are apparent, it is true, but could not new complications arise under the direct primary system, as embarrassing and as paradoxical?

The Primary System obtaining in some states is solely to blame for complications over presidential elections. Under party conventions and fixed party responsibility a situation such as has happened in North Dakota could hardly happen. The primary system has let down the bars. Socialists, Ultra-Radicals of all types have been able to invade both the republican and democratic parties and use them regardless of the principles or candidates such parties are in duty bound to espouse.

Manipulation of the primary system has been so easy that thoughtful persons wonder whether the nomination and election of a president by direct vote would prevent some of the complications which threaten to disfranchise a large body of voters in this and other states.

Common honesty and political decency should clear the atmosphere in this state.
A return to conventions and party responsibility probably would cure the present ills more effectively than an extension of the direct primary which has not resulted in electing better men to public office than were attracted to the public service under the old and now almost discarded system.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL
The Red Cross drive which starts October 5. "Join Now, The American Red Cross Serves Humanity," is the slogan.

The Burleigh county chapter administers to the needs of this section in a very vital way. Offices are maintained in the City National Bank building with Miss Mary Cashel in charge. Affairs of the society are directed by a board representative of the community. While a portion of the chapter's work is financed by the city and county, a portion of revenue must be derived from memberships.

What does the Red Cross do for Burleigh county?
It directs a social service bureau which acts as a clearing house for charitable work, thus avoiding costly duplication in time, money and effort.

Its social worker Miss Cashel, investigates mother pension applications. Her efforts alone in weeding out petitions for relief that had no merit have saved the tax-payers thousands annually.

This trained worker under Red Cross auspices gives aid to the worthy poor, finds places for unemployed and constantly is bringing hope and cheer into places where misfortune has come.

As juvenile officer working under the direction of the district judge, she becomes the adviser of wayward girls. Much constructive work has been done along this line.

Not a small part of the work is the aid extended to ex-servicemen. They are assisted at Red Cross headquarters in filing claims. Aid is given their families as necessity dictates. The Red Cross feels keenly its duty toward ex-servicemen and Burleigh county's record of efficiency in this line has brought praise from national officers.

What drive could be more worthy? Where can money be better spent in promoting community welfare?
L. A. Tracy has consented to act as chairman for this year's drive. He is entitled to the best kind of cooperation and support.

The Red Cross is a most effective agent for good in time of peace as well as in times of war.
Get behind it. Join when asked.

SKYWARD
Skyscrapers 750 feet high are coming in great numbers. It's predicted at a meeting of National Association of Building Owners and Managers. This is made possible by recent improvements in express elevator service, operators handling the cars by push buttons. Stops will be made every tenth floor. There'll be local elevators for each deck of 10 floors.

High land values are compelling man to resort to inventive ingenuity that is magical. The high building and the elevator are simply attempts to escape from land rentals.

AVERAGE FINES
Violators of the prohibition act, convicted in federal court, pay an average fine of $170 apiece. This is disclosed by the government report, covering four years.
Uncle Sam's net still has many holes through which whales can swim freely. But the net is working about twice as efficiently as two years ago. Federal convictions in 1922 totaled over 34,000, compared with a trifle over 18,000 in 1921.

The trouble with the net is that it catches too many sardines.

OLD-TIMES
Old documents, come to light in New Hampshire, show that Judge Jonathan Lawrence 72 years ago paid these prices when he traded at the "general store":
Butter, 20 cents a pound; eggs, 12 cents a dozen; apples, 19 cents a peck; flour, $5.25 a barrel; gloves, 28 cents a pair; flannel, 30 cents a yard; sheeting, 12 cents a yard.
Some of these prices are not as low as you'd expect. Prices reach about the same high peaks every 50 years. Wheat sold for $3.50 a bushel at times after the Napoleonic and American Civil wars.

What is worse than your wife cooking the same thing for dinner you had down town for lunch?

VOTERS WANT FAIR PLAY

(Jamestown Alert)

The refusal of the LaFollette managers of North Dakota to remove the four electors, who have announced they will vote for LaFollette and Wheeler, if elected, from the Republican column, looks like a cheap attempt to disfranchise the republican voters of this state. This obdurate purpose on the part of the LaFollette management, to keep the four LaFollette electors in the Republican column, in order to prevent republican voters from casting their vote, as republicans, for Coolidge and Dawes, will surely react against LaFollette in North Dakota.

No matter to what political party the voter belongs, and regardless of his personal choice of candidates for the presidency, he believes in fair play. It is positive that a majority of the LaFollette voters in North Dakota want the names of LaFollette and Wheeler removed from masquerading as republicans in a republican column on the ballot.

Senator LaFollette has strength enough in North Dakota to go it alone, before the voters of North Dakota. He does not need to seek, by trick, or misleading device, votes intended for Coolidge and Dawes. What the real motives of the LaFollette managers are in fighting the state wide demand to remove the LaFollette electors from the republican column, is not yet revealed. But it is easy to surmise. The Nonpartisan League and the LaFollette support will lose prestige by the dog-in-the-manger policy of LaFollette managers, in preventing, if such proves to be the case, republican voters from expressing their free choice for Coolidge and Dawes in their own party column.

At this juncture, the position of LaFollette managers may so far react as to create a "fit in the LaFollette-Wheeler ranks and it would not be surprising or unreasonable, if the protest was strong enough to bring this about, with the disastrous results to LaFollette himself.

The people of North Dakota, regardless of party, want every qualified voter to have a square deal, in expressing his choice for president and vice president.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Back came Nancy and Nick to the Sour Old Woman's house under the winter fall.

They had the sleepy sand with them and all they had to do was to get the Sand Man out of the Sour Old Woman's cellar and start him off in his home in Shut-Eye Town.

Nancy peeped in through the Sour Old Woman's cellar window and there lay the Sand Man still fast asleep.

"But, Stu!" called Nick softly.

"But I didn't do a bit of good for the fellow was tired out."

So Nick took some little pebbles and threw them and at that the Sand Man sat up and stretched and yawned and said sleepily, "Ho, hum! Where am I?"

"Hush!" whispered Nancy. "You're in the cellar of the Sour Old Woman's house. See if you can get up the stairs and slip out."

So the Sand Man peeped up through the hole in the floor, and seeing no one, slipped out through the kitchen when the Sour Old Woman popped out from behind the stove and Eena Meena the Magician stepped out of the cupboard.

"I see we have company," said the Sour Old Woman as pleasantly as she could.

"Why, don't you remember?" said the Sand Man in surprise. "You told us to go to the cellar and then you forgot and shut us in."

"Why so I did!" said the Sour Old Woman. "So I did! My memory is so short I can't count up to a dozen any more. And your friends—where are they?"

The poor Sand Man didn't know what to say exactly. He didn't want to say that the Twins had escaped. For then the Sour Old Woman and Eena Meena the Magician would start to hunt and they would be sure to discover the Twins outside.

But Nancy and Nick had heard every word and they knew there was going to be some trouble.

"Quick, Nick!" said Nancy. "Dump all the magic sand out of the sack into that hollow stump, and fill the bag up with common sand."

So Nick dumped all of the Sand Man's magic sand out of the sack and filled it up with common sand that lay near the water-fall.

Then they went to the Sour Old Woman's front door and knocked.

And just in time. Because the Sand Man didn't know what to say when the Sour Old Woman asked him for the third time where the Twins were.

"We had an errand to do on our left," said Nick. "You see it was time for all the babies to have their naps and someone just had to take the sleepy sand around. The poor Sand Man was all worn out with his hay fever."

The Sour Old Woman made a wry face. "Sleepy sand indeed!" said she. "We'll soon fix that. Eena Meena, say your charm."

So Eena Meena said: "Slumber now you cannot make. Instead you'll keep folks wide-awake."

And he waved his right hand over the bag of sleepy sand.

"My goodness! You can't do that!" gasped the poor Sand Man. "What will the babies do?"

"They will have to do without," said Eena Meena. "All three of you may go now."

In one of Larry's worst periods, when he was disgusted with living in daily fear of the law, he persuaded his friend Skinner to come on the tramp with him. That was how the pair found themselves.

Ruth, I hope I'm not trying to make Jack pay me for a cheese when it is a grindstone for which he is in my debt. I am insisting that he apologize for what he said to me about Karl's telephone, because I think he is jealous of Karl and makes me disloyal. Perhaps he is neither jealous of Karl nor doubtful of me, but knowing it would be impossible for him to give me such a wonderful present, he is hurt that I have accepted them from another man.

Now here, Ruth, is my worst trouble. I don't think dad is getting along as fast as we could wish. In fact mother takes the most pessimistic view of his condition. True, dad himself is very optimistic, and keeps talking about when he will get up again, but I don't like his wanting to have John come here and take his place. That isn't like dad a bit, if he thought he would ever get back into harness.

Poor, poor mother! She is one of those women who is more of a mother than a mother. Although she loves me devotedly I do not think there

"All right, I'll send him a bill if you're sure it's a cheese," said the accountant to the old storekeeper.

The accountant sent the man a bill for the cheese. The supposed debtor wrote back very indignantly saying he was a hardware dealer, and never bought a cheese in his life.

"There it is. I forgot to put the hole in the cheese. It's a grindstone he owes me for."

Ruth, I hope I'm not trying to make Jack pay me for a cheese when it is a grindstone for which he is in my debt. I am insisting that he apologize for what he said to me about Karl's telephone, because I think he is jealous of Karl and makes me disloyal. Perhaps he is neither jealous of Karl nor doubtful of me, but knowing it would be impossible for him to give me such a wonderful present, he is hurt that I have accepted them from another man.

Now here, Ruth, is my worst trouble. I don't think dad is getting along as fast as we could wish. In fact mother takes the most pessimistic view of his condition. True, dad himself is very optimistic, and keeps talking about when he will get up again, but I don't like his wanting to have John come here and take his place. That isn't like dad a bit, if he thought he would ever get back into harness.

Poor, poor mother! She is one of those women who is more of a mother than a mother. Although she loves me devotedly I do not think there ## was ever a time in her life she would not have sacrificed both Alice and me for dad any day.

They've been particularly a happy couple. Sometimes, though, I think I will ask mother if when they were first married it did not take them a little while to adjust themselves. I remember her saying one time that people either grow together or grow apart. They have grown together, and now, if anything happens to dad, her whole life will be wrecked and broken. I dare not think what will become of her.

Well, Ruth dear, this is a terrible letter to write to any one, let alone a dearest friend. I hope you got out all right with my mother-in-law. It just seems to me as though John and I were having enough misadventure, standings and troubles without her making it worse all the time. And as for that old maid, I thought I had got rid of her, and now here she bobs up again. I'll just have to settle with her in the near future once for all. She almost makes me feel a Borgie when I think of her.

As soon as you get everything settled at the apartment, you would better send me a long night letter collect, for I am very anxious to know exactly what has happened. If she has found the secret drawer in my desk, I will never forgive her.

There, I've told it to you, Ruth. There is a secret drawer, and I have found it.

Lovingly, LESLIE.

A Thought

Sirs, ye are brethren: why do ye wrong one to another—Acts 7:26.

Man, man is thy brother, and thy father is God.—Lamarine.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO.

HE'S A HUMAN BEING, TOO

By Albert Apple.

One generation of people has about the same problems as another. As a sample: The high cost of living is an eternal problem. They had it thousands of years ago, just as much as we have it now. And they tried about the same remedies—such as laws against profiteering, fair price lists, etc.

The reason our economic problems remain unsolved, century after century, is because they are considered as cold-blooded scientific problems instead of human problems.

The trouble begins in our schools. We teach the rising generations all the truths, sophistries and bunk propaganda of economics. But we give them very little training in human decency—kindness, fair play, the Golden Rule.

Quite naturally, men who have not been trained in Christian principles do not practice these principles when they get power over the necessities of life.

Take the problem of the farmer, who has been getting less than his share of prosperity. This problem has for the most part been considered as cold-bloodedly as if it were a surgical operation.

Politicians and economists and writers have come forth with numerous solutions, based on statistics. Their arguments usually wind up with the plea that, if the farmer's buying power isn't restored to him, he cannot buy city-made goods.

That's true. But there's more to it than the selfish or material side. It's more than an economic problem. It's a human problem. The farmer is a human being. He has a right to a fair share of general prosperity. If he doesn't get it, he suffers—so do his wife and children. His children, in particular, suffer by not getting an even chance in education and inheritance. But most of this is ignored. The talk runs to law of supply and demand, cycles, price balances, etc.

Some day this is going to be a mighty fine world to live in—but not until people realize that the only solution for most material problems is spiritual—Golden Rule, decency, tolerance, Christianity.

Material suffering is the result of violating spiritual laws.

New York, Sept. 27.—The Cheese Club meets every day but not a bite of mouse trap bait is eaten by its members.

They live for laughs. No movement or enterprise is too ridiculous for them to offer a supporting hand.

It was the Cheese Club that organized the famous overall parade, the Fifth Avenue march of 40 workmen that attracted 2,000,000 spectators.

Last spring the club produced a show seriously billed as "The world's worst show"—and it was. It lasted one night.

This winter "The world's best show" will be produced for a night. Practically every star on Broadway will appear.

The club composed of authors, cartoonists and press agents with some connection with the theatre, has headquarters in The Tavern. Guests are invited every day except Monday, when the club reserves the right to a closed session to laugh at the guests of the week previous.

Benny Leonard, the pugilist, actor and author, was the fun maker yesterday. Among Benny's strongest forces, however, is his business ability. He is one of the shrewdest men in the ring, on a typewriter or behind the footlights.

The Cheese Club has a membership of only 100 with a waiting list that includes, officials say, Eddie Cantor, Will Rogers and other stars.

Harry Whitfield, the cartoonist, who was born in Iowa, is the club president and chief fund maker. Bernard Sobel, former Purdue University professor and now a Broadway press representative is the English referee.

Sixty-five dollars an hour or $500 a day is not considered excessive attorney's fees according to baristers pleading for their funds in a case here—a case in which the organization which hired them, objected to the compensation. Counsel fees were $750,000.

Broadway may soon be cluttered with buses. The plan is seriously suggested to do away with street car lines on the famous street, in rush hours, Fifth Avenue, look like the avenue of buses. But they make better time in the congested area than electric cars.

FABLES ON HEALTH FOR DISINFECTANTS

The need for disinfectants or fumigations was sounded in one of the notices brought home from the hygiene class by little Mollie Jones.

The list was compiled something like this:

1—Standard solutions of washing, cleaning and disinfecting closets, cuspidors, washbowls, etc., are—boiling water, soap and water, soda and water, lime, carbolic acid, cleanlinyl-sol and tricresol.

2—Standard killers of disease germs are—alcohol, iodine, carbolic acid, lysol, formalin and bichloride of mercury.

3—Standard fumigants are—sulphur, hydrocyanic acid gas and formaldehyde gas.

Most every home finds need at one time or another for fumigants, either after illness or due to the roads of some sort of vermin. Sulphur is good for pests and formaldehyde for disinfectant.

MANDAN NEWS

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
There will be a meeting of all those interested in the Mandan symphony orchestra on Tuesday evening Sept. 30, at 7:30 at the Comptroller's office. A good attendance is urged. The effort made last spring toward the organization of the orchestra was very satisfactory but due to the lateness of the season it was planned to start anew this fall. There were close to thirty registered at the spring meeting and several musicians have moved to Mandan to make their homes since and it is expected that the orchestra will meet with success right from the start.

NO GAME TODAY
Due to a wet field and more threatening weather predicted the football game scheduled by Mandan high school with the Linton high school for this afternoon has been postponed to some day early next week.

FINGERS CAUGHT IN COG WHEEL
Robert, aged 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roth of Huff, suffered painful injuries when his hand was caught by the cogs of a separator. The boy was brought to the city and the mangled fingers dressed. The attending physician does not believe that it will be necessary to amputate.

VALLEY CITY GRID TEAM IS VICTOR FRIDAY

Takes Bismarck High School Into Camp By a Score of 30 to 0 There

LOCALS FIGHT HARD Not Discouraged After Battling Against Veteran Valley City Team

Valley City, N. D., Sept. 27.—Bismarck High School's green football team battled the veteran Valley City High team at Valley City Friday afternoon, and lost, 30 to 0, but put up a battle throughout the game.

The game was a costly one in injuries to both sides. Francis Hillman, Bismarck center, was badly injured when kicked in the groin and lay out of the game for some time, and Shepard also was knocked out of the game. Capt. Belknap of Valley City, half back and one of the stars of the Valley City team, suffered a dislocated elbow and a meniscus suffered a broken arm.

The score at the end of the first half was 9 to 0 in Valley City's favor, the Bismarck "Demons" battling the Valley City bunch to a standstill during much of this period of play.

Valley City was unable to score during the first quarter, the play being fairly even. Both teams were in threatening positions during this period, but neither could cross the goal line. Early in the second quarter, Eckels, full back for Valley City, scored three points with a nice 30-yard drop kick which sailed straight through the goal posts with the wind. Lee scored a touchdown in the second quarter after he picked a punt fumbled by Haas, Valley City making the 15 yards in two downs.

None in Third Quarter
In the third quarter, Valley City scored a touchdown on an intercepted forward pass. Bismarck, fighting desperately had held Valley City on a 10-yard line for downs. Olson attempted a forward pass, which was intercepted by a Valley City end who ran to the goal line.

Valley City added two more touchdowns in the fourth quarter, with Bismarck team trying under the heavy attack and handicapped by injuries. Valley City scored a touchdown in the fourth quarter on a 30-yard run by Olson, who was tackled by a Bismarck player at the 10-yard line.

Local Lineup
Bismarck line up at the start of the game as follows: Scroggins and Shepard, ends; Eckels and Bender, tackles; LeRoy and Anderson, guards; Hillman, center; McGittigan, full back; Olson and Lofthouse, halfbacks; Haas, quarterback back. During the game, Pich went in for Russell, Olson went in for McGittigan, Eckels substituted for Haas, and an injury for LeRoy.

Bender and Hillman were towers of strength in the line for the Bismarck aggregation, both fighting hard. Hillman remained in the game throughout despite his injuries, sustained in the third quarter.

Bismarck held the Valley City bunch on the one-yard line three times. Valley City's heavy backs began turned back in their hard attacks.

The Bismarck aggregation was not discouraged by the game, realizing their inexperience was costly to them. They admitted they were up against a superior team yesterday, but believe that they can battle Valley City to a standstill later in the season.

Bismarck had an open date and an effort will be made to get a game.

Bismarck plays Jamestown here October 4.

SENATORS NOW BUT ONE GAME IN THE LEAD
All Before Boston While New York Is Winning From Philadelphia

New York, Sept. 27.—Washington's lead in the American League is reduced to one full game yesterday on the threshold of their last major league pennant and to the Boston Red Sox, 2 to 1, while the Yankees were winning from Connie Mack's Athletics, 7 to 1.

in Boston the Yankees may yet slide under the wire ahead.

The Senators can still lose one game to the Red Sox and break even with the Yanks if the American League champions sweep the series against the Athletics.

The situation in the National League remained constant yesterday, neither the Giants or Brooklyn being scheduled to play.

Walter Johnson, star Washington pitcher, was forced to retire yesterday when he was hit on the elbow by a batted ball, but his injuries are said not to be serious.

DAZZY VANCE MAY APPEAR IN CITY UNIFORM

Likely to Pitch for Bismarck When Big League Baseball Team Plays

"Dazzy" Vance, star pitcher of the National League and the pitching sensation of baseball this year, may appear in a Bismarck uniform.

George Smith, manager of the Bismarck Independents, who will stage a big league baseball game here on Monday, October 13, today received a telegram from Jack Fournier, first baseman of the Brooklyn team and one of the leading home run hitters of the National League, saying that he will furnish a battery for the Bismarck team for the exhibition game here.

Fournier added that the pitcher who will take a Bismarck uniform will be either "Dazzy" Vance, Henry Burleigh Grimes of the Brooklyn team or Erhardt of the Brooklyn team. "Bubbles" Hargrave, of the Cincinnati Nationals, will be the Bismarck catcher.

The complete line-up of the big league team is expected in a few days.

EPINARD IS AGAIN LOSER

French Horse, However, Makes Game Fight in Race

New York, Sept. 27.—(By the A. P.)—Ladkin, chestnut colt owned by August Belmont, won the international speed race number two here this afternoon by a scant nose from the French champion, Epinard, with Wise Counsellor third, a length away. The time was 1:36 2-5.

It was probably the most thrilling race of the season's sport and had not Wise Counsellor badly bumped Epinard in the beginning of the last furlong the French champion would have won in the opinion of experts.

With the barrier, Epinard raced out in front, closely followed by Wise Counsellor, Ladkin and Zev. The Russian stable horse quickly ran into the ground and Ladkin and Wise Counsellor, rushing out in front, raced neck and neck from the half-mile to the stretch with Epinard, two lengths away. Down the stretch they came with Ladkin taking the lead while Epinard began to close rapidly. It was here that Epinard, coming fast and overhauling the Belmont horse, was bumped by Wise Counsellor, but the French champion, recovering his stride, was running on even terms at the thrilling finish.

HAS HIS OWN PAY CUT

Mr. W. Edgerton, city law director of Knoxville, Tenn., has twice asked that his salary be cut. When elected his pay was $6000 a year. As soon as his labors became less arduous he suggested a cut of $1000. Later he had $1400 more cut off. And, in the meantime, he has secured raises for two of his assistants.

MOVEMENT OF GRAIN SLOWED MANY PLACES

Rains Delaying Threshing, Condition of Roads, Stops Marketing

The weekly crop report of the Van Dusen Harrington Company, Minneapolis, as of September 24, says:

"The threshing of grain stopped for two or three days the latter part of last week owing to heavy rains. Since that time the weather has cleared and conditions permitting, farm work will be resumed as rapidly as possible."

"A marked effect of the rains is shown in some grain now coming onto the market. It has been reduced several grades, more so in the northern districts, as much of it is damp, sprouted or bleached."

"In the north central part of North Dakota the later threshed wheat also shows the effects of rust. Some of it is shrunken and light in weight. The early frosts also affected it to some extent."

"The bad condition of the roads has stopped the hauling of grain in places and there is only a moderate movement to country elevators at present."

"Not much progress has been made by the corn crop since a week ago. A considerable portion is dented, but is maturing very slowly at this late season. There will probably be a very uneven crop, a small percentage will mature properly, while the balance will be of lower grades and a large part of it fed, instead of coming onto the market."

"Very little threshing of late flax has been accomplished during the past week. The crop was cut just before the recent rains and has not dried out. The quality of the late seed will also show some deterioration. There are evidences of damage by frosts, to late flax."

"The strong prices of all grain have been very satisfactory and beneficial to farmers who were forced to sell early, in order to obtain immediate funds."

"As there will be little of interest to report each week on the Northwestern crops from now on, this will be our last crop report of the season."

Rainy Weather Is Hard on Your Battery

Rainy weather is kind of tough on storage batteries and this is especially true in the autumn when there is a great deal of rain and occasionally a frosty night or two.

The battery, tucked away under the floor boards is in a fine position to get a shower bath of forty water from road puddles every time the wheels hit one. Eventually the water deposits a film of dirt over the top of the cells which works up between the terminal connections unless they are tight.

While no serious damage will result from an accumulation of dirt on top of the battery," says the Corwin Motor Co., Willard dealer here, "the dirt is not doing the battery any good either. Eventually a blue-green and yellow deposit will form around the terminals and cause starting and lighting trouble and may even necessitate replacement of the parts affected unless proper care is taken to keep the connections tight, free from corrosion and properly greased."

"Failure to care for these minor details will not prove expensive as far as repair bills are concerned," claims Mr. Corwin, "but it is well to avoid the annoyance of being caught with an inoperative battery, regardless of how simple and inexpensive it is to fix it again."

WHEAT TURNS TO HIGH MARK

Reaches New Level Early in Trading in Chicago

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(By the A. P.)—Although immense export business today lifted prices of wheat and rye above the previous high prices, the market on wheat closed at a reaction due to profit-taking sales. The close was easy at 1 1/2 cents decline to 1.38 1/2 to 1.39 1/2, and May 1.44 to 1 1/2 cents.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(By the A. P.)—Fresh returns in all grains took place today, wheat once more scoring a new high for the season.

Wheat opening prices, which ranged from 1 1/2 cents decline to 1 1/2 cents advance, which December 1.38 1/2 to 1.39 1/2, and May 1.44 to 1 1/2 cents, followed by material gains, which, however, failed to hold well.

HOG PRICE ADVANCES

So St. Paul, Sept. 27.—(By the A. P.)—This week saw persistent, but for the most part, unsuccessful attempts of packers to reduce value of fat cattle, says the weekly review of the Department of Agriculture. Biggest receipts were grass cattle from the western ranges and profit-taking from feeder buyers prevented lowering of prices on any classes except fat cows and heifers which lost as much as 25 cents in spots.

Very few fed steers were offered, a few loads, selling at $7.50 up. Top $10.50 with bulk of grass cattle scoring within a $2.50 to $6.50 spread. Cows and heifers found a pucker outlet at $4.50 to $6.50, mostly, with canners and cutters, which met a 15 cent advance, going at $2.25 to $3.00.

Bull values were inflated about 25 cents, better bolognas selling at $4.25 to $4.75, with an occasional heavy up to $4.00. Veal calves with almost a daily fluctuation are closing about like a week ago, with best lights scoring $8.50. Stockers and feeders were under the hammer the entire week and closing prices are 25 cents lower on better grades with some of the lower grades showing a full 50 cents loss.

With but one slight set back hog prices have advanced steadily during the past week with a top price of $25.00 paid for a string of fine hutchers. Bulk of the desirable 150 to 275-pound averages reached to all interests within the narrow range of $9.75 to $9.85, with backing cows going mostly at $8.75 to $9.00.

Sheep and lambs continued during the entire week at the same prices, which were in force at last week's close. A few loads of choice western and Dakota lambs topped at $12.50 while the bulk of better natives reached at $12.25.

Today's receipts included cattle 1,209; hogs 500; sheep 500.

MOVEMENT OF GRAIN SLOWED MANY PLACES

Rains Delaying Threshing, Condition of Roads, Stops Marketing

The weekly crop report of the Van Dusen Harrington Company, Minneapolis, as of September 24, says:

"The threshing of grain stopped for two or three days the latter part of last week owing to heavy rains. Since that time the weather has cleared and conditions permitting, farm work will be resumed as rapidly as possible."

"A marked effect of the rains is shown in some grain now coming onto the market. It has been reduced several grades, more so in the northern districts, as much of it is damp, sprouted or bleached."

"In the north central part of North Dakota the later threshed wheat also shows the effects of rust. Some of it is shrunken and light in weight. The early frosts also affected it to some extent."

"The bad condition of the roads has stopped the hauling of grain in places and there is only a moderate movement to country elevators at present."

"Not much progress has been made by the corn crop since a week ago. A considerable portion is dented, but is maturing very slowly at this late season. There will probably be a very uneven crop, a small percentage will mature properly, while the balance will be of lower grades, and a large part of it fed, instead of coming onto the market."

"Very little threshing of late flax has been accomplished during the past week. The crop was cut just before the recent rains and has not dried out. The quality of the late seed will also show some deterioration. There are evidences of damage by frosts, to late flax."

"The strong prices of all grain have been very satisfactory and beneficial to farmers who were forced to sell early, in order to obtain immediate funds."

"As there will be little of interest to report each week on the North-western crops from now on, this will be our last crop report of the season."

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 27.—(By the A. P.)—Joseph M. ## Rainy Weather Is Hard on Your Battery

Rainy weather is kind of tough on storage batteries and this is especially true in the autumn when there is a great deal of rain and occasionally a frosty night or two.

The battery, tucked away under the floor boards is in a fine position to get a shower bath of dirty water from road puddles every time the wheels hit one. Eventually the water deposits a film of dirt over the top of the cells which works up between the terminal connections unless they are tight.

While no serious damage will result from an accumulation of dirt on top of the battery," says the Corwin Motor Co., Willard dealer here, "it is not doing the battery any good either. Eventually a blue-green and yellow deposit will form around the terminals and cause starting and lighting trouble and may even necessitate replacement of the parts effected unless proper care is taken to keep the connections tight, free from corrosion and properly greased."

"Failure to care for these minor details will not prove expensive as far as repair bills are concerned," claims Mr. Corwin, "but it is well to avoid the annoyance of being caught with an inoperative battery, regardless of how simple and inexpensive it is to fix it again."

LAHR MOTOR SALES CO.

OVERLAND CAR TO START BIG ENDURANCE RUN

Will Leave Lahr Motor Sales Company Tuesday For 5-Day Test

TO COVER MANY MILES

A remarkable endurance test of an Overland coupe-sedan, with regular factory equipment, will be started from the Lahr Motor Sales Company, here, at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The car will cover the entire territory for which the Lahr Motor Sales Company distributes Overland and Willys-Knight cars, and will make hundreds of miles in the non-stop trip which will be ended about noon here Saturday, October 4.

Confident that the car will make the endurance test, W. E. Lahr, president of the Lahr Motor Sales Company, is planning the schedule so that the motor of the car will not stop from Tuesday morning until Saturday.

The car will stop from five to 15 minutes in the 125 towns it will pass through, and 30 minutes will be allowed drivers for lunch. Drivers will drive in four shifts. The car will go as far west as Miles City, Montana, will return down the Milwaukee line to Scranton, thence to New England, through Dickinson to Killdeer, thence to Mandan, thence to Mott and Seldridge, will cross the Missouri on a ferry and go to Linton, thence to Ashley, Kulm and Steele, up the North Soo line to Garrison, back down the Pingree-Wilton branch and to Bismarck. The exact routing is being advertised in The Tribune.

As a feature of the endurance run, the Lahr Motor Sales Co., will offer a cash prize of $20 to the person guessing nearest the exact mileage that will be covered on the trip. A guessing box is being installed at the Lahr building. A map is being placed in the show rooms, to show the route, and the car's progress will be shown.

The test will be a remarkable one for the car. "The reason for the test is to demonstrate the sturdiness of the Overland car," Mr. Lahr said. "Speed is not the aim, it is simply a matter of endurance. The car will travel at a good touring speed."

These Advanced Features Point The New Way

The Chrysler Six throttles down to 2 miles an hour in high. When you "step on it" the Chrysler shoots from 5 to 50 miles an hour in less than 19 seconds. In its speed range from 2 to 70 miles an hour there is no "vibration point". At all speeds and under all conditions it is remarkably easy to handle. One of the reasons for this is because it has pivotal steering, with ball thrust bearings on the king pins. Special design six-ply, high-speed balloon tires are standard.

The Chrysler Six is the dawn of a new day in conservation and application of power, utilization of space, unexampled economy combined with absolutely even, consistent performance.

No one engineering feature among the score or more responsible for results never before achieved can be justly emphasized as the real secret of such revolutionary achievements. Like the crankshaft, whose seven bearings, instead of the usual three or five, prevent destructive and costly engine vibration, there are a dozen features that effect unusual economies.

Still others, like the low center of gravity, the perfect weight distribution, the new practice of spring suspension and the Chrysler-Lockheed hydraulic four-wheel brakes, have much to do with the car's superiority in riding comfort, roadability, steering ease and safety. But the best way to understand these things is to ride in and drive the car.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Chrysler's attractive plan.

Velvet Smooth Power and an engine that improves with use

Willys-Knight's New Lanchester Balancer prevents vibration at any speed.

The Willys-Knight is a revelation to motorists. It gives them a new conception of riding ease, a velvet smoothness of operation that surprises and delights.

Much was expected of the car. The ten years it has been in production have been years of progressive leadership. It conquered noise with its quiet sleeve-valve engine,—it conquered engine deterioration, conquered carbon and valve trouble, conquered the problems of lubrication, clutch, steering and every detail of mechanical construction. It seemed to approach the pinnacle of possibility.

But Willys-Knight still advances. This year it tops its record with another triumph—it solves the universal problem of engine vibration. The Lanchester Balancer, which eliminates vibration, introduces the car owner to a new comfort, to a higher pleasure in driving.

The Willys-Knight with Lanchester Balancer awaits your inspection.

Willys-Knight sales increased 238% last year. And Willys-Knight is a better car today.
